COMPRESS CO. WILL EXPEND NEAR MILLION

Atlanta Compress Company Held an Important Meeting Yesterday Morning.

WILL ENLARGE THE PLANT IN FOUR GEORGIA CITIES

At Meeting of Stockholders and Directors the Purchase of Two Presses in Macon Was Authorized—Will Be Bought Shortly.

At a special meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Atlantic Compress Company, held in the office of President C. C. Hanson, in the Candler building yesterday, purchases, enlargements and improvements were authorized to the amount of some nine hundred thousand dollars.

It was decided to build a big compress in Macon with standard ware houses, and to buy up the two large presses in Macon, the English, Johnson & Co. and the Union Compress and Ware House Co., the purchase price for the two compresses being $105,000. After making this purchaes, which will be done immediately, these two presses will be combined and a plant built, the cost of which will be from $250,000 to $300,000. This action of yesterday's meeting will give Macon a plant about the same size as that of the new plant in Atlanta, material fo which is now arriving daily. As previusly reported, this means a new $300,000 proposition for Atlanta and the work of actual construction has already begun with the arrival of materiasl.

By the action of yesterday's meeting the present facilities at Columbus, Ga., will be increased to about the same as those of Atlanta and Macon. To this end for the purpose of enlarging and increasing the present Columbus facilities $100,000 was appropriated.

Two large compresses in Montgomery will be consolidated and the plant enlarged and improved. The Montgomery Compress Company and the Mutual Compress Company are the presses authorized to be purchased, the cost price for these two being $160,000.

Still another result of yesterday's important meeting in Atlanta was the authorizing of the purchase of a big plant in Augusta. The remainder of the total sum of $900,000 was authorized for the making of purchases, improvements and enlargements at various presses operated by the Atlantic Compress Company.

The proposition to reduce compress rates at all points where the Atlantic Compress Company operates to 6 cents per 100 pounds in Georgia and Alabama was referred to a special committee. Action was deferred until this committee makes its report, which will probably be at a meeting held about the first of August.

The present compress rates are 7½ cents in Georgia and 8½ cents in Alabama. It was stated that in case the compress rates are reduced, this reduction will have been made possible by the centering, consolidating and improving of the plants and compresses of this company. Not only will such a reduction mean much to the south, but these new improvements, made possible by the outlay of large sums of money, will provide better and cheaper facilities for storing and holding cotton and at a cheaper rate of insurance.

A subsequent meeting of the directors of the Atlantic Compress Company was held for the the purpose of authorizing the action taken by the stockholders. President C. C. Hanson presided at the directors' meeting, while Samuel H. Parrott acted as chairman at the meeting of the stockholders.

Those present at the meeting yesterday, most of them coming to Atlanta in their private cars, were: Major J. F. Hanson, president of the Central of Georgia; Samuel F. Parrott, vice president and general manager of the eGorgia, Southern and Florida; Charles A. Wickersham, president of the Atlanta and West Point; Alexander R. Lawton, first vice president and general counsel of the Central of Georgia; T. S. Moise, general manager Central of Georgia; William A. Winburn, second vice president Central of Georgia; W. W. Finley, second vice president Southern railway; Barbour Thompson, general agent Southern railway; T. K. Scott, general manager Georgia railroad; E. F. Cost, traffic manager Seaboard Air Line, and W. L. Maporther, first vice president Louisville and Nashville railroad.

DOWIE THOUGHT KAISER WAS COMING TO SEE HIM

CHICAGO, ILL., June 26.—Miss Elizabeth McLennan, a nurse, who accompanied John Alexander Dowie to Mexico and Jamaica, testified today in the hearing before Judge Landis to determine the ownership of Zion City properties, that Dowie during that trip was delirious a greater part of the time. While in Jamaica, she declared, he was continuously under the impression that the emperor of Germany was coming to visit him and at times sent the witness to the port to watch for the imperial fleet. On one occasion, she testified, Dowie dressed himself in evening clothes and awaited the coming of the emperor. Dowie seemed to believe, according to the witness' testimony, that by his prayers he had prevented war among Asiatic nations and that in consequence he was to receive a sum of money.

Deacon H. D. Bracefield, a follower of Voliva, testified that he believed Dowie was inspired by God in establishing Zion City. He was unable to explain on cross examination how, in view of his alleged divine inspiration, Dowie could be deposed by the people.

CRAZY PLEA MADE TO EXCUSE HARRY THAW

Defense Will Be That, Brooding Over Wife's Wrongs, He Was Insane When He Killed White.

THAW'S HATE FOR WHITE WAS CAUSED BY STORY TOLD BY EVELYN NESBITT

White Knew That He Was Hated by Young Thaw and Had Been Warned to Be Careful—Tragedy Most Sensational Since Ed Stokes Killed Jim Fiske About a Woman—Thaw Remains Perfectly Cool and Says He Did Right in Killing White.

New York, June 26.—Frankly admitting that the killed Stanford White, the famous architect, and pleading in justification of the deed that White had ruined the life of his wife, the beautiful former chorus girl and artists' model, Florence Evelyn Nesbitt, Harry Kendall Thaw, of Pittsburg, brother of the countess of Yarmouth, occupies a cell in the Tombs awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

His counsel will offer the defense of insanity and today the prisoner was examined by eminent alienists, retained on his behalf and by the district attorney's office.

Tragedy Not a Surprise.

The tragedy, while a shock to the friends of both men, was not altogether a surprise to them. They knew, and have known for several years, that against the architect Thaw had the most bitter feeling. It dated back to the time when he first fell in love with the young woman who now is his wife. He made no secret of this feeling.

It had come to the ears of White and his friends had often discussed it with him, some had even warned him to be careful, but declaring that there was no reason for the feeling the architect went about his business as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Thaw lived in Pittsburg and the incident was fast being forgotten until the early part of this spring, when the young couple came to this city and took apartments. The warnings were renewed then on the part of some, but at these the architect laughed.

The coroner's inquest will be held on Thursday and in all probability the case will then be considered by the grand jury when the prisoner's wife will be required

HOWELL WINS VOTES IN COFFEE COUNTY

Democratic Candidate Was Given a Rousing Reception at Douglas.

NO "DISFRANCHISEMENT" FOR COFFEE COUNTY

Mr. Howell's Exposure of the Fraud Was Warmly Approved—Coffee County Promised To Howell in the August Primary.

By FRED LEWIS.

Douglass, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Clrak Howell made strong friends in Coffee county today who say they are going to carry the county regardless of the reports which have been sent out from here to the effecthat Coffee would not this time be found in the democratic column.

"You may count on it, Coffee is all right," said Judge Levi Osteen, ex-Senator D. L. Sweat, and other leading citizens of the community, "and on August 22 it is going democratic and for Clark Howell."

Mr. Howell's friends and supporters were more than gratified by [illegible]ession made here today by his able, clean and forcible address upon the issues of the campaign, and the result was this number was greatly augmented, till they now assert his victory in this county is practically assured.

Great Crowd Heard Mr. Howell.

Mr. Howell was greeted today by one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences that ever assembled in Coffee county.

The courtroom was crowded to overflowing, fully 500 people being packed inside, many of whom were unable to get seats stood in the aisles, in the doorways, and elsewhere in the courtroom, giving always close attention to his argument and joining in the frequent applause that reigned through the courtroom in strong and expressive approval of his attitude upon the questions under discussion.

Mr. Howell was met at the depot upon his arrival here this morning by a large delegation of friends and supporters from all sections of the county, headed by such well known citizens as Samuel Quincy, prominent farmer; ex-State Senator F. L. Sweat, W. P. Bellinger, merchant; Judge C. T. Roan, of the city court; Judge George L. Briggs, prominent lawyer; Judge Levi Osteen, former judge of the city court, and many others of like prominence and influence in the county.

Accompanying them was the Douglass Silver Cornet band, which contributed some spirited music to the enthusiastic welcome given Mr. Howell and led the way with music from the depot to the hotel, and furnished an attractive feature of the program. Mr. Howell met many warm supporters from every section of

"PORK BARREL" ROLLS TO SENATE

That's the Way They Allude to the Building Bill.

Washington, June 26.—"The pork barrel," as the so-called omnibus building bill is generally called, was rolled into the house today by Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, who reported a broad and comprehensive rule for its consideration.

Mr. Barthoidt, of Missouri, chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds, said the bill represented the painstaking, intelligent labor of many months. He said that more than five hundred bills, carrying upwards of $60,000,000, had been referred to the commitee, and each of these bills was considered on its merits. Out of this mass of public building bills has come the present omnibus bill, which carries in round numbers $21,000,000.

"The claims of all the country have been impartially considered," said Mr. Bartholdt, "and this comprehensive bill is a result of the months of earnest work spent upon its preparation."

Fitzgerald Jabs at Bill.

Mr. Fitzgerald, of New York, in a semi-serious way, but with considerable feeling, said it was futile to attempt to delay the passage of the gill.

Mr. Fitzgerald likened the house to a school just closing, and following the universal practice throughout the country at "commencement time," this great school is about to distribute its premiums," he said.

"This bill," Mr. Fitzgerald said, "illustrates as well as anything I have ever seen the truth of the statement of the coercisive power of plunder.

"I know, Mr. Speaker, that there is no power in heaven or on earth that will stop the passage of this bill," remarked Mr. Fitzgerald, which statement was greeted with applause.

The bill was then put upon its passage amid loud applause. The speaker, in an hour from the time the rule was reported, announced that the seal of the house had geen put upon the measure and it was started on its way to the other side of the capitol.

The Night Sessions.

The house tonight in a session lasting three hours, was occupied with speeches on a variety of political subjects, although the pending measure was the bill "to simplify the laws in relation to the collection of the revenue."

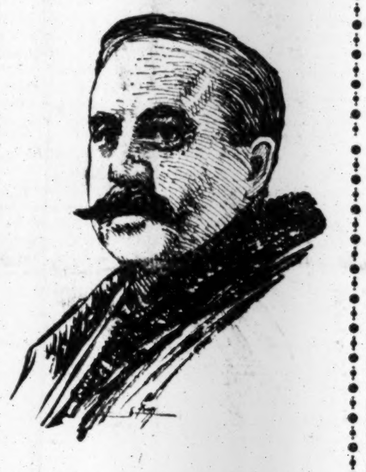
Mr. Boutell, of Illinois, replied to the speecches of Rainey, of Illinois, and Williams, of Mississippi, on the "watch trust." Mr. Boutell spoke in a humorous vein, referring to the subject as a "great drama," to which he gave the title "government by advertisement, or who gets sold most in the watch trade."

Mr. Boutell referred to Mr. Williams' position regarding the tariff on watches, and said that Mr. Rainey, "standing like Teneriffe, smote him (Williams) with his eyes."

Mr. Payne sought to prevent Mr. Williams from replying by suggesting that the democrats had occupied 35 minutes more than the republicans. Mr. Williams replied to Mr. Payne, and Mr. Dalzell called for regular order as the disputants glared at each other across the aisle. "Why didn't you call the gentleman from New York to order, howling like a wild demon around here?" called out Mr. Williams.

Tsi evoked applause from the democrats.

The house adjourned at 11 p. m. until tomorrow.



ARCHITECT WHITE,
Who Was Killed by Harry Thaw.

RUIN OF WIFE LAID TO WHITE BY HARRY THAW

"He's a Scoundrel and Ought To Be Put Out of Way," Said Thaw of White.

ALLEGED THAT WHITE PURSUED YOUNG GIRLS

New York, June 26.—(Special.)—"Stanford White wronged my wife; he is a scoundrel; he ought to be put out of the way."

So said Harry K. Thaw at luncheon with a friend down town several weeks ago. His friend, remembering the conversation, repeated it to a reporter early this morning.

"Little Evelyn Nesbitt came to New York about four years ago," Thaw told his friend. "Her father, a Pittsburg lawyer and vice president of the League of American Wheelmen, had just died.

"Mrs. Nesbitt came on here with Evelyn and her little brother and they all lived at No. 247 West Twenty-second street. Evelyn was an artist's model and posed for photographers. She was a sweet, innocent girl, almost a child, and one of the most beautiful girls that ever lived. Lederer heard of her and gave her a place in the chorus of the 'Wild Rose' at the Casino.

"Then Stanford White found her out. Do you know him?" and Thaw looked furious.

"As any of your friends who know about fast life in this town and they will tell you he was notorious as a seeker out of young girls on the stage.

"He became acquainted with Evelyn, took her to after theater suppers and out in his automobile. You can guess the rest.

"He sent her after awhile to a school in Madison, N. J., to finish her education. It was on one of her visits home from that school that I first met her."

Thaw's eyes blazed when he talked of White. Other friends of his said that he had told a like story to them and seemed always to be brooding over White's alleged wrongs to his wife.

GEMS WORTH $60,000 STOLEN FROM THAWS

Home of Young Man Who Killed Architect Is Robbed---Description of Jewels Sent to Every City in United States.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 26.—While seeking information of the Thaw family it was learned tonight that the home of Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, who is charged with the murder of Stanford White in New York last night, was robbed of jewels and silver plate within the past few weeks, the value of which is said to amount to $60,000. The matter was reported to the police, but because of the prominence of the family the incident was suppressed. All the cities of the country have been notified of the robbery and description of the jewels have been sent to the various police departments.

ARCHBISHOP BLENK WILL ARRIVE TODAY

High Official of Catholic Church Will Be the Guest of the Marist Fathers While in the City.

Atlanta will have as her guest today one of the highest officials of the Roman Catholic church in America in the person of Archbishop Blenk, who is now on his way to New Orleans, where he will have his headquarters.

He will stop over in Atlanta today, and possibly for several days, as the guest of the Marist Fathers, of which order he is a member.

He was formerly the bishop of Porto Rico, but was some time ago appointed to the archbishopric, one of the highest positions in the gift of the Catholic church.

Thursday evening he will be entertained by Dr. R. D. Spalding at dinner.

STATE LEGISTATURE IN SESSION TODAY

Senate and House Come to Order at 10 O'Clock This Morning.

At 10 o'clock this morning the senate and the house of representatives will come to order at the sound of the gavals wielded by President West and Speaker Slaton.

Five new members, elected to fill vacancies occasioned by deaths and resignations in the ranks of the house, will appear before the bar and be sworn in by Speaker Slaton.

The governor's annual message will then be transmitted and read to both houses, and beyond this it is not thought that further public business will be transacted. Inasmuch as organization of both bodies has been perfected, it is expected that on Thursday both houses will have settled down to the routine which will be pursued for fifty days.

Comparatively few members had arrived last night, but a full attendance of the membership of both houses is expected at the hour of convening this morning. Among those noted at the Kimball last night were:

Senators C. S. Reid, of the thirty-seventh; L. T. Peyton, of the thirty-second; W. S. McHenry, of the forty-second; George W. Adams, of the twenty-ninth, and President West.

The following were among the members of the house of representatives who arrived yesterday:

T. S. Felder, of Bibb; P. M. Hawes, of Elbert; J. J. Conner, of Bartow; W. E. Mann, of Catoosa; G. B. Holder and C. H. Porter, of Floyd; J. C. Powell, of Fannin; E. B. Trammell, of Harris; A. J. Johnson, of Crawford; John Holder, of Jackson; H. H. Little, of Hancock, and Gus Woodliff, of Forsyth.

STUDENTS, TO WIN BET, SAILED AS STOWAWAYS

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 26.—Coming here from New York as stowawaws to win a bet, three Yale students, Carl S. Flanders, center of last fall's football team; Charles Ballard, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and L. E. Andrews, of Brookline, Mass., arrived here today on the steamer Comus. They said they boarded the Comus in New York, hiding in the hold until four hours out of port. They then appeared on deck and were put to work with the crew for the remainder of the voyage.

People Flee From Guatemala.

Mexico City, June 26.—Refugees from Guatemala report that the government has imprisoned some 40 prominent citizens under suspicion of being in sympathy with the revolutionists. This action of the government is resented by the people, who, however, fear to openly protest.

to appear before that body, she having been served with a subpena today while in consultation at the office of her husband's counsel. Every effort is now being made by both sides to expedite legal preliminaries so that the arraignment and trial may take place at the earliest possible moment.

White Killed in Building He Designed.

Not since the killing of James Fisk, Jr., by Edward S. Stokes on the staircase of the Grand Central hotel, more than thirty years ago, has the metropolis been shocked by so startling and dramatic a tragedy as that which was enacted last night in the presence of an audience of more than one thousand persons in the roof theater of Madison Square Garden. Not the least dramatic feature of the tragedy is the fact that Mr. White met his death in the structure which is perhaps the most conspicuous memorial of his architectural genius.

Rarely has the case against any prisoner moved with more rapidity than did the proceedings today which ended in Thaw's formal commitment to the Tombs. Save in this unusual and almost frenzied haste the routine followed and the treatment accorded to Thaw differed in no respect from that meted out to any prisoner charged with a capital offense.

Roused early this morning from his cell in the West Thirtieth street station, Thaw, attired in fresh clothing brought to him by his valet, was shackled in spite of his protestations, to a detective and taken in the patrol wagon to police headquarters.

Thaw in Rogues' Gallery.

There, after awaiting his turn in the long line of petty criminals, arrested during the night, he was photographed, and his measurements taken under the Bertillon system. Again in the patrol wagon he was taken to the criminal court building, where a great multitude gathered to catch a passing glimpse of him, and he was arraigned in the police court. There the proceedings were of the briefest and after the bare formality of arraignment had been undergone Thaw was remanded to the custody of the coroner and on his order committed to the Tombs to await the result of the inquest, which was set for Thursday.

Throughout the proceedings Thaw showed little evidence of agitation except when the detectives approached him in the station house to affix the handcuffs to his wrist. Then he protested vehemently, but on being assured that this was the invariable rule practiced, he submitted without further words. While leaving the station house, and even in the court room, he was compelled to run the gauntlet of batteries of cameras from which he shielded himself as well as he could by covering his face with his unshackled hand.

Thaw Shows Incipient Paresis.

Thaw was registered at the Tombs as "Harry Thaw, born in the United States, 33 years old, student," and was assigned to cell 220, on the second tier. Shortly after his arrival he was visited in his cell by Dr. Austin Flint, Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald and Dr. Mabon, on behalf, it was said, of the district attorney's office, and Dr. Maguire, the Tombs physician, who were requested to make an examination of the prisoner's mental condition by counsel for the defense. Drs. MacDonald and Flint later declined to say anything, but Dr. Maguire said that he believed he discovered symptoms of emotional insanity and possibly indications of incipient paresis. The physicians will make a further examination of the prisoner tomorrow, Dr. Maguire meantime keeping him under surveillance. Dr. Maguire said that the prisoner's condition was almost perfect and his appetite excellent.

Lawyer Delafield, who took charge of Thaw's interests immediately after his arrest, announced that the firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Boynge, of which former governor Frank S. Black is the senior partner, had been retained to conduct the defense. Later Mr. Delafield and former Judge W. M. K. Olcott had an interview with the prisoner in the consultation room in the prison, after which Mr. Delafield declined to say anything about the case except that it was now entirely in the hands of Mr. Black and Mr. Olcott. Mr. Olcott declined to make any statement.

Mrs. Thaw Is Found.

The whereabouts of Mrs. Thaw, who disappeared from Madison Square Garden in the confusion that followed the tragedy, remainded a mystery until this afternoon when, accompanied by a friend, Miss May McKinsey, she arrived at the offices of Delafield & Longfellow, on Wall street, where she remained in consultation with counsel for several hours. While there she was served with a subpena requiring her attendance before the grand jury on Thursday. Mrs. Thaw was clad in a plain brown automobile costume and appeared ill and nervous and apparently hardly strong enough to walk from the carriage to the door. At the lawyers' office Mrs. Thaw was joined by Mr. and Mrs. George Carnegie, said to be relatives of husband.

Mrs. Thaw was not seen to leave the building, which was closely watched by reporters, and late in the afternoon it was learned that she and Miss McKinsey had left the lawyers' office on the thirteenth floor, crossed the roofs of two adjacent buildings and entered a window of the City National Bank building, in front of which a carriage was waiting for them. Mr. Delafield declined to make any statement on behalf of Mrs. Thaw except to say that she would not be spirited away and would respond to any summons of the authorities.

Mrs. Thaw Before Grand Jury.

Assistant District Attorney Nott, who has charge of the prosecution, said tonight that all the witnesses at the inquest and before the grand jury would be first examined by him, but intimated that Mrs. Thaw's presence at the inquest would be required. It was understood that this course was decided upon in view of the fast that Mrs. Thaw could stand upon her rights as a wife to refuse to testify against her husband. She will, however, be required to appear before the grand jury.

The district attorney's office is busily engaged in looking up Thaw's antecedents, his mode of living, reported dissipations and indulgences with a view to analyzing their bearing on his mental condition. On this point Mr. Nott said today:

"Thaw is not insane now, nor was he insane at the time he shot White."

Asked concerning the probable date of the trial Assistant Attorney Nott said:

"I know of no reason why he should be treated any differently than an ordinary accused murderer. He will have to wait his turn to be tried in all probability. However, Mr. Jerome will be back in town on Monday next and will decide that."

Mrs. White Is Prostrated.

Up to tonight the district attorney's office has received no communication from members of Mr. White's family. Mrs. White came in this morning from her summer home at St. James, on Long Island, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Prescott H. Butler, and went to the town house in Gramercy Park, where she is now with her son, Lawrence, who came down from Harvard yesterday and parted with his father only an hour or so before the tragedy. Mrs. White was reported to be completely prostrated by shock and grief.

Mr. White's body was removed to the house this afternoon.

The autopsy held today showed that all three bullets had taken effect, one in the corner of the left eye, which penetrated the brain and was instantly fatal; one in the upper lip, knocking out several teeth, and one striking the left shoulder and lodging in the elbow.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at St. Batholomew's church, Coadjutor Bishop Greer officiating.

Thaw's bearing in the Tombs was the source of much wonder to the wardens, who had him in charge. While he appeared to be in a sort of daze and unable to comprehend his position, his appetite was unimpaired, for he disposed of three substantial meals during the afternoon and having dined at 6 o'clock with every appearance of enjoyment, he remarked that he expected to spend a comfortable night.

"DIRTY BLACKGUARD HERE," WROTE MRS. THAW OF WHITE, AND THEN THAW KILLED HIM

NEW YORK, June 26.—The beginning of the tragedy last night was in the Cafe Martin at the hour of dinner. Its end was on the roof of Madison Square Garden a few minutes later. In the first scene, Mr. and Mrs. Thaw, her father and another man were dining together when Mr. White and two other men entered and took places nearby. According to Mr. Thaw's own words to a reporter, he did not know of the presence of the architect until the agitation of his wife attracted his attention. He asked a question to be answered by a note saying: "That dirty blackguard is here."

White left the cafe soon afterward, visiting his studio in the tower of Madison Square Garden, which is one of the many building he designed, then going to his club and finally to the roof garden. Mr. and Mrs. Thaw were there. Mr. and Mrs. Thaw had gone back of the scenes to visit some friends and immediately her husband began pacing up and down the floor. It was while Thaw was on the western side of the building that White came in, sat down, chatted a moment with Harry Stevens and then as Stevens left looked at the stage. Thaw watched him a moment from one of the entrances, then began to thread his way forward. Without looking to the right or left, brushing into several women and men he walked slowly toward the table until he leaned forward over its edge toward his victim. At this White recognized him and made a movement to rise. But there was no time. With a muttered imprecation the young man drew a large automatic revolver and began firing. Three shots rang out. Two took effect and White was dead. Turning, Thaw faced the audience "broke" the revolver, threw all the cartridges out, and started away. It was then he was arrested. Mrs. Thaw rushed up and putting her arms about his neck kissed him.

A statement credited to Thaw immediately after the arrest is this:

"We were all at the Martin. I was sitting some distance from my wife. Suddenly I saw her get very pale and begin to shiver and I thought she was ill!

"I made a motion to inquire what was the matter and she called a waiter and wrote a note which she sent around the table to me.

"The note said: 'The dirty blackguard is here.' Then I turned and saw that fat scoundrel sitting there, big and healthy and then I saw her and how she was."

"Did White make any motion to attack you?"

"What?" said Thaw.

The question was repeated and Thaw nodded his head in the affirmative.

As Thaw talked he reverted again and again to his wife's attack of shivering when she saw White in Martin's.

"That poor, delicate little thing, all nervous and shaking like a reed," he said, half to himself, "and there he was, the big healthy scoundrel. God."

THAT MAN RUINED MY HOME; HE WON'T RUIN MORE HOMES, SAID THAW OF MAN HE SLEW

NEW YORK, June 26.—Policeman Harry Debes, who arrested Thaw, gave this account of the shooting:

"I found the people almost crazy trying to get from the place. I jumped into the mob and saw a woman lying down. she had fainted and then I saw White.

"I said to Thaw: 'Did you do it?' and he replied, 'Yes, I did it. That man ruined my life' (or wife), I don't know which he said, but it sounded like that. Then he went on, saying: 'That man ruined my home. I guess he won't ruin any more homes. Is he dead?' I told him he was and he said he was damn glad of it and he was glad he 'made a good job of it.'

"When I arrested Thaw a woman, who Manager Lawrence told me was Mrs. Thaw, rushed up to Thaw and kissed him and said: 'I did not think you'd do it in that way.' 'It's all right, it's all right,' Thaw told her. Then she whispered something into his ear. I don't know what she said to him.

"Down in the hall and into the street a lot of women gathered about us and shook hands with Thaw and sympathized with him. 'Why did you do it?' 'Why did you do it?' they kept asking."

Stickney Refuses to Recall.

St. Paul, Minn., June 26.—A delegation of officials of the Rock Island and Santa Fe railroads who in reality represented a number of western lines operating between Chicago and the Missouri river, called on President A. B. Stickney, of the Great Western, at his office today urging him to withdraw what they called a reduction in the grain rates.

Mr. Stickney refused to recede from the position he took last week, when he ordered the elevator rebate discontinued.

Killed by Deputy Marshal.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 26.—While advancing on Deputy United States Marshal Sam Welsh, at Appalachia Junction, Tenn., with an open knife in his hands, Cory Taylor was shot three times by the officer, death ensuing shortly after the shooting. Welsh had arrested Taylor six years ago for violation of the revenue laws, and ever since Taylor had obrne a grudge against the officer. Welsh is in custody at Ducktown, Tenn.

PYBUS RECKLESS WITH HIS AUTO

Was Heavily Fined and Suspended Thirty Days.

Recorder Told Him It Was a Surprise to See Him Held on Such Charge After Experience He Had—Pybus Denied Charge.

On the charge of running an automobile at a reckless speed, Percy W. Pybus, who works for the Atlanta Automobile Company, 95 South Pryor street, was arraigned, heavily fined, suspended and lectured by Recorder Broyles in the police court yesterday morning.

Pybus is the young man who ran over and killed the little son of Branch Lewis with an automobile on Washington street several months ago. It was because of this fact that the recorder spoke to the defendant as he did.

Pybus was arrested Monday by Bicycle Officer Barefield on Peachtree street. The evidence in the recorder's court yesterday morning was that Pybus was running an auto on Peachtree street at about thirty miles an hour.

The officer stated that he was going so fast that it was impossible to get anywhere near him with a bicycle. A citizen testified that he saw Pybus, and he was running about twenty-five miles an hour. This witness stated that street car men had told him that Pybus was going 35 miles an hour.

Officer Barefield stated that Pybus saw a chicken in the middle of the street and he turned his automobile to one side and purposely run over the fowl, which he killed.

"Pybus, after he had run over and killed the chicken," stated the officer, "looked back and laughed."

The officer exhibited a card to the recorder showing the size of the number, which was 4, which Pybus had on his machine. It was very much smaller than the size prescribed by the city ordinance.

Pybus denied that he was going at a reckless speed, and said that his machine could not make over thirty miles an hour at its highest speed.

"I am certainly surprised to see you in this court on such a charge," said the recorder to Pybus. "I thought after your terrible experience when you ran over and killed a child that you would be very careful about how you ran an auto. In fact, I thought you had quit the business. I know I would have quit if I had gone through your experience. A number of people lately have mentioned to me about how reckless you were with an auto. I will fine you $25.75 and suspend you for thirty days, which means that you are not to drive an auto until thirty days have expired."

POLICE SHOOT INTO CROWDS

Striking Carmen Pelt Police, Who Fire and Strike a Boy.

Allentown, Pa., June 26.—A platoon of the state constabulary, which is on duty in this city in connection with the street car strike, fired into a crowd tonight and injured a boy. The police were riding past Fourth and Hamilton streets, when they were greeted with yells by a large crowd congregated at that point. Two of the state policemen arrested two men and started with them for the jail, half a block away.

A crowd of 2,000 persons quickly gathered and stones were thrown at the state police. The hamlet of F. Markrantz, a state policeman, was smashed with a brick. In the melee that followed one of the arrested men escaped. The police being hard pressed by the crowd that was following them turned and fired a shot into the air and then shot low. A bullet struck Harry R. Winkle, a 13-year-old boy, in the leg and he was taken to a hospital. Chief of Police Bower and several city policemen arrived at the jail as the state police brought in their remaining prisoner and two troopers who were accused of doing the shooting, were locked up and charges will be preferred against them.

Very few cars are running, the company not having enough men to keep up their usual service.

MORTUARY.

Died While Sitting in Chair.

Macon, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Miss Susie Berry, aged 32 years, died suddenly at her home in Bellevue yesterday evening. She had been ill but slightly and was sitting in a chair when death overtook her. She is survived by three brothers and four sisters. The funeral took place this afternoon.

Mrs. B. E. Wilcox, Fitzgerald, Ga.

Fitzgerald, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—The death of Mrs. B. E. Wilcox occurred here yesterday. She was the wife of Representative B. E. Wilcox. She was devoted to her family and wrapped up in the interests of her home and children. A little child of the family was buried only a short time ago, and this second bereavement falls with added weight on the husband and the remaining children. The interemtn was at Ocilla, where Mr. Wilcox has a number of relatives.

J. M. Amason, Charlie, Tex.

Goodwater, Ala., June 26.—(Special.)—J. M. Amason died June 11 at Charlie, Tex. He was born in Washington county, Georgia, July 24, 1838. His parents moved to Randolph county, Alabama, in 1840, but in a few years removed to Tallapoosa county, where they continued to reside. Mr. Amason married Miss Mollie Leach and located near Hackneyville, in Tallapoosa county, where he has resided ever since until last winter, except four years he spent in Texas. He twice represented Tallapoosa county in the state legislature; ranked high in the Masonic order and served in the confederate army.

First Cotton Blooms.

Commerce, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Yesterday was the hottest day of the season in this place, the thermometer registering 96 degrees. There were several local showers in this section yesterday, and the crops are growing rapidly, and are loking unusually well. The first cotton blooms of the season were reported June 24.

Queen Quality

Fashion's Decree

No woman's wardrobe, if she would be well dressed, is complete this season without several pairs of shoes. She must have her Patent Leathers, her black shoes of Kid or Calf, her Tans and her White Ties or Pumps. And there is real economy in giving your shoes a rest. They will retain their shape better, wear longer, and be in every way more satisfactory than if one single pair be constantly used.

HANDCUFFS AND CAMERAS NOT AT ALL TO THE LIKING OF YOUNG MILLIONAIRE

NEW YORK, June 26.—Thaw's trip to headquarters was made only after the strongest protests on the part of his friends had been overruled. They were informed that no change whatever could be made in the usual procedure.

When the detectives, accompanied by Inspector Schmittberger, entered the cell to take Thaw to headquarters, Thaw inquired whether it was necessary for him to be handcuffed.

"Yes," the inspector replied, "it is necessary. We always handcuff murderers."

Thaw was then led out of the tenderloin station handcuffed to a detective. As Thaw was coming down the station steps, he raised his left arm to escape the cameras that were turned on him. He was dressed in a gray suit and wore a white straw hat. He looked cool and selfpossessed.

At the sidewalk the patrol wagon was waiting. Thaw was placed in it and driven to police headquarters.

The greatest crowd of the day was encountered when the patrol wagon with Thaw and the officers approached the criminal court buildings. When Thaw, tired and worn, stepped from the patrol wagon he was confronted by a small army of photographers. He quickly covered his face with his hands and with his guards went into the building.

He was taken at once to Coroner Dooley's private office and was welcomed by the coroner with the greeting: "Sit down here, Mr. Thaw," indicating a chair near the desk.

The formal proceedings before the coroner were even breifer than those in the police court. Thaw was arraigned on a short affidavit sworn to by Patrolman Debes. Upon the strength of this affidavit Coroner Dooley directed that the prisoner be committed to the Tombs without bail.

During almost his entire stay in the coroner's office Thaw sat with his hands pressed to his face to conceal himself from the score or more of photographers who had crowded into the room.

In remanding the prisoner to the Tombs, Coroner Dooley announced that the inquest into White's death would be held on Thursday.

At the conclusion of the proceedings, Thaw was taken across the bridge of sighs to the Tombs. Then after his pedigree had been taken, he was assigned to a cell on the second tier of the prison where all prisoners charged with homicide are confined.

Mr. Delafield said that the defense would rely on the insanity plea. Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonynge, the law firm of which former Govenor Frank S. Black is the head, was engaged by Mr. Delafield this afternoon to look after Thaw's interest in the criminal proceedings against him.

Mrs. Thaw went to the office of Attorney Delafield this afternoon and was in conference with her husband's lawyers.

RETIRED LIST FOR HUGUENIN

Election of His Successor Will Be Held July 6.

The application of Colonel E. D. Huguenin, commander of the Second regiment, National Guard of Georgia, to be placed upon the retired list, was received by Adjutant General Harris yesterday. An order was issued that an election be held on July 6 to fill the vacancy.

Among those mentioned as probable successors to Colonel Huguenin are Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Griffin, of Eastman; Major Walter A. Harris, of Macon; Major J. Henry Smith, of Griffin, and Major J. L. Pritchard, of Tennille.

Colonel Huguenin held the rank of brevet brigadier general, and is retired, under the provisions of the act of the general assembly, approved August 11, 1904, with the rank of brigadier general. This leaves a vacancy in the rank of brevet brigadier general, to which rank Colonel Peter W. Meldrin, of Savannnah, will be promoted.

Colonel Huguenin enlisted as a private in the state militia in 1872, being promoted in rank until he was commissioned as colonel on February 1, 1903.

GORDON PLANS FOR BIG FAIR

Many Special Features Will Attract the Visitors.

Calhoun, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Among the special features of the Gordon county fair to be held in Calhoun October 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, next, will be an all-day singing, a baby show, a five-hour walking match and other amusing features. Saturday, October 6, will be Reunion day of all the confederate veterans of north Georgia. Gordon county camp No. 1101, United Confederate Veterans, will arrange a program for the day and prominent veterans of the state will be urged to be present. The indications are that the fair this fall will be second only to the state fair and the leader of all county fairs in the state.

Delusions About Police.

(From The Illustrated London News.)

There is one class of persons who believe that the policeman of London is a kind of knight-errant. They believe that on the vigil of his appointment he watches his helmet, truncheon and large boots in some dim and sacred chapel, and that he would wear his lady's colors on his helmet if the rules of the service permitted it. It is one of the innumerable delusions of mere wealth.

Calhoun Asked for Supplies.

Calhoun, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—The Seventeenth infantry, from Fort McPherson, will pass through Calhoun about July 12, en route to Fort Oglethorpe, Chickamauga National Park. Bids are called for by the department for furnishing supplies for the infantry at this point. It is understood that the encampment and maneuvers begin at Fort Oglethorpe July 15 and continue till October 15.

GREAT PROGRESS IN UNDERTAKING

Georgia Funeral Directors Are Now in Session.

H. M. Patterson, of Atlanta, Made an Address on "The Funeral Director and the Minister." Today Will Be Devoted Entirely to Business.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—The Georgia Funeral Directors' Association was in session at the parlors of the Hotel Lanier this morning, a large number of prominent undertakers being present. President C. M. Furguson, of Winder, called the meeting to order and divine invocation was offered by Dr. J. L. White. Mrs. L. T. Stallings sang. Mayor Bridges Smith welcomed the funeral directors in a very appropriate address, the response being made by C. J. Shelverton, of Austell, Ga.

President Furguson's annual address was the leading feature of the morning session. This was a glowing account of the progress of the modern undertaker and the great improvements in the modern funeral and its management. He spoke in forceful manner of the exceptional standard of citizenship evinced in this particular profession and believed Georgia was keeping pace with the greatest states in conducting the business of the funeral idrector.

"The Funeral Director and The Minister" was a most interesting subject treated by H. M. Patterson, of Atlanta. Demonstration of cadaver was made by W. E. Platt, of Augusta, in a most interesting manner.

Many new members have been added to the lists of the organization since last year, and the body in attendance today is a very representative one.

The members o fthe association were the guests of Funeral director Jesse B. Hart, at a barbecue at the Outing club grounds this afternoon.

Tomorrow's programme is also an interesting one. The entire day will be devoted to the business of the meetings. At the close of tomorrow's sessions officers will be chosen and the next meeting place will be named.

DEAL CLOSED FOR RAILROAD

Wrightsville and Tennille Buys Dublin and Southwestern.

Dublin, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—On and after Sunday next the Dublin and Southwestern railroad will be a part of the Wrightsville and Tennille system.

The trade was made last week, $200,000 being the amount paid for the road. All of the stock was purchased.

The Dublin and Southwestern was built entirely by local capital. It has been in operation to Eastman for about one year. During the past year the revenue of the road has been enormous for a new road, the net earnings being more than 20 per cent.

For some time there has been rumors of a deal by which the road was to pass from the local stockholders to some railroad system. It has been known that the Wrightsville and Tennille road had been examining very closely into the affairs of the road and had made, through one of its officials, a careful inspection of the roadbed, rolling stock, etc.

The Dublin and Southwestern is 31 miles in length and connects Dublin with Eastman. It runs through some of the best territory in the state. There are several splendid new towns along the line of road.

The officials of the Dublin and Southwestern road were making their plans to extend the road from Eastman to Cordele or Fitzgerald. It is thought that the purchase by the Wrightsville and Tennille will end the projected extension at least for the present.

E. P. Rentz has been the president of the road since its construction and was one of the largest stockholders.

MAY BE DELAY IN ADJOURNING

Cannon Tells Congress That Work Must Be Done.

Washington, June 26.—Congress will stay in session until its work is finished. This is the dictum of Speaker Cannon and his lieutenants, and is being emphasized at this time to counteract any impression that the pure food bill at least might go over until the next session.

There is also trouble on the meat inspection bill and the "tie up" on the rate bill indicates delay. The immigration bill is also in conference, as as several of the appropriation bills.

All of these things must be worked out without any date of adjournment being set according to the decision of the house leaders. When the work is done, an adjournment resolution will be forthcoming in short order.

While the situation today spells delay until next week, the work on the floor is progressing. Members say there is no need of prolonging the session beyond Friday if the conferees make up their minds that the work must be done or that agreements which will meet all demands can be arranged on all matters before that time and that if the idea of prolonging the session for the purpose of killing certain bills is abandoned this week will see the end.

THOUGHT TYNER WAS A BURGLAR

Yardmaster Clarke Kills Man Who Helped Him.

The Two Men Had Gone Out in Search of a Burglar, It Being Alleged That a Negro Was Throwing Boxes of Goods From Cars.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—While Yardmaster Charles Clarke and Assistant Yardmaster George D. Tyner were engaged in searching for a supposed burglar in the Central railway yards here at an early hour this morning the latter was shot through the head by the former, who supposed he was firing on an escaped car thief, and death ensued at the city hospital, where he was hurried for treatment.

The two men had gone out in search for the burglar in company with Car Inspector Nowell. Some one had stated that a negro was throwing out boxes the information reached the employees of goods from the cars and as soon as they hurried to the spot. All their lanterns had been extinguished in the hope of slipping up on the party and the place was dark.

After a lengthy search, in which Tyner mounted the string of cars, two quick revolver shots rang out and Nowell heard Clarke exclaim, "My God, I have killed Dick!" Clarke was on the opposite side from Tyner and heard a noise on top of the cars. He called out and no one responded. He fired at the form in the darkness and again he heard nothing. When a second shot was fired the body dropped from the car and when a match was struck Tyner's companion found that he had mistaken him for the burglar. One shot had penetrated the brain.

The injured man was hurried to the city hospital, where Chief Surgeon E. B. Elder soon found that he was dying. An investigation by Coroner T. E. Young resulted in a verdict declaring the affair an accident. Both men were friends for 12 years, having worked all this time side by side in the Central yards.

Tyner leaves a wife and three children. He resided on Second street, and had many friends. The funeral occurred this afternoon and the remains were shipped to Marshallville, his boyhood home, for interment.

TWO JUSTICES WERE CENSURED

Grand Jury Made an Interesting Report Yesterday Morning.

Justices of the Peace O. H. Puckett and Virgil Jones were severely censured in a special presentments of the grand jury read in the superior court yesterday morning; Judge Pendleton presiding.

The presentment, which was signed by R. J. Griffin, foreman, and every member of the grand jury, stated that it was found that in these two courts criminal process had been extensively used to collect plain debts, the defendants in such cases being thrown in jail and kept there until they or their relatives had produced money to pay the costs and the debt claimed, at which time the prosecutor withdraws the warrant; in one of tnhese courts—the justice not being named—it is charged that in the last four years 600 warrants were sworn out, of which 360, or 60 per cent of them, were withdrawn by the prosecutor. This leads the grand jury to conclude that the justices issue warrants for misdemeanors, without specifying the offense, in order that the cases may be settled, it being unlawful to settle felonies.

The administration of the garnishment laws are also complained of, the grand jury recommending that parties seeking same should deposit $2.50 to pay the garnishee for making his answer.

It is recommended that salaries be paid justices and their bailiffs in counties in which there is a city of 50,000 inhabitants, and the representatives of Fulton county in the general assembly are requested to secure legislation to remedy the evils pointed out.

UNKNOWN NEGRO SHOT DEAD.

Was in the Act of Entering the Home of Morris.

Danville, Va., June 26.—An unknown negro was shot and instantly killed at about midnight last night while in the act of attempting entrance to the home of R. E. Morris, a detective for the Southern Express Company. The negro had raised a window to a room occupied by Mrs. Morris and her daughter, aged about 18 years, when discovered by Morris, who was in the room directly above that of his wife. Criminal assault is thought to have been the motive for the presence of the negro. Some hours after the killing a negro giving his name as Monroe Richardson was arrested on the charge of being an accomplice of the dead negro. Morris was released without bail and an investigation will take place tomorrow.

TO OWNERS OF SUMMER HOMES.

MUSIC is one of the great summer time needs—perhaps the greatest. It fills in the gaps in the round of pleasures and adds a note of gayety to all occasions.

The big hotels show how thoroughly they appreciate music's importance by spending large sums for the maintenance of their own orchestras, while the more popular resorts have public concerts morning, afternoon and evening.

Persons who are fortunate enough to have a summer cottage ought to be independent of outside musical attractions.

To be able to give your own concert in your own home, to make up your own programs, to hold an informal dance—without relying upon outside musicians—such is the ideal condition.

We make all of this and more possible.

THE PIANOLA.
We will rent a few slightly used Pianolas for the summer season of three months on moderate terms. A new Metrostyle Pianola may be purchased on easy monthly payments. Price $250.
The Pianola fits any Piano.

THE PIANO.
We offer for rent or sale outright a variety of good pianos, Uprights and Grands, terms depending upon the intrinsic value of the instrument selected.

THE PIANOLA PIANO.
We DO NOT RENT Pianola Pianos. Prices range from $550 to $1,000. Monthly payments can be managed.

THE ORCHESTRELLE.
This instrument, playing overtures and symphonies with full orchestral effects, appeals to the most refined musical intelligence. It is equally successful in lighter music and rag-time.

THE TALKING MACHINE
This is a continual pleasure and "a joy forever" to everybody. NOT EXPENSIVE—played by even a child—giving life-like reproduction of everything, too bewildering to attempt to describe.
PRICES $10 to $100.

RAWLINGS BOYS AGAIN IN COURT

On Bill of Exceptions Case Reaches Supreme Court

Leonard, Milton and Jesse Rawlings' Motion for a New Trial to Be Argued on July 16—It Will Be Their Last Chance.

On a fast bill of exceptions, the case of Millard, Leonard and Jesse Rawlings against the state reached the state supreme court yesterday.

The case comes up on a bill of exceptions to the order of Judge Mitchell, passed on May 24, overruling the motion of the Rawlings boys for a new trial on extraordinary grounds. The case has been set for hearing before the supreme court on July 16.

The motion for a new trial on extraordinary grounds was fortified by the affidavit of J. G. Rawlings, made in the shadow of the gallows, alleging that he hired the negro, Alf Moore, to kill old man Carter, paying him $100 for the service, and that his sons, Milton, Leonard and Jesse, were innocent; the affidavit of T. S. Passmore that W. L. Carter, the father of the murdered children, swore at the coroner's inquest that he saw two white men and two negroes outside of his house on the night the children were killed, and that Leonard Rawlings was not seen there by him; the affidavit of Elbert Freeman, a negro who was confined in jail with Alf Moore, to the effect that Moore confessed to him that Tim McDonald, one Bentley and J. G. Rawlings were responsible for the murder of the children, and that the Rawlings boys had nothing to do with it. In addition to this there are several affidavits of men living in the neighborhood averring that they believe that Milton Rawlings was of unsound mind at the time the murder was committed. The state put in evidence an affidavit from Alf Moore denying that he made the confession attributed to him by Elbert Freeman.

Governor Terrell's last respite to the Rawlings boys and their father, and to the negro, Alf Moore, expires on July 13. Judge Mitchell's order granting the bill of exceptions acts as a supersedeas as to Milton, Jesse and Leonard Rawlings, the two former of whim were sentenced to be hanged, and the latter to life imprisonment.

John Randolph Cooper and Oscar M. Smith, as attorneys for the Rawlings boys, filed the bill of exceptions.

Capital Stock Increased.

Secretary of State Cook on yesterday granted an amendment to the charter of the Brunswick Steamship Company, authorizing an increase of its capital stock from $100,000 to $1,000,000.

This company is the port connection of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad Company, and it is understood that the increase is for the purpose of paying for the four huge freighters now in process of construction. These four vessels, which will be finished about November 1, are expected to prove the largest and finest coastwise steamers along the Atlantic seaboard.

Commissioner of Schools Merritt and his office force were busy yesterday sending out the printed questions to be used in each county seat on Friday and Saturday at the examinations of applicants for positions as teachers in the public schools. Every precaution was taken by Mr. Merritt to prevent any leakage of the information contained in the examination papers, and they were sealed and bradded with more care than would have been bestowed on packages of greenbacks before being entrusted to the mails and express company.

Good Meal Before Death.

Arcadia, Fla., June 26.—Albert Simmons, the 19-year-old negro who on March 17, last, murdered his aunt and her two children, chopping up their bodies and feeding to the hogs, was legally hanged here today. Just before the execution he called for ham, eggs, and ice cream.

"I Believe In The Use of Beer"

—Rev. A. W. Stein

Distinguished Divine Pleads for Popular Beverage in the Home.

From staid old Fitchburg, Mass., comes the voice of a rector pleading for the sane use of wine and beer. The Rev. Alexis W. Stein, rector of Christ Episcopal Church of that city, and formerly assistant to the Rev. Dr. Rainsford at St. George's Church, New York, and, previously, rector of Christ's Church, Cincinnati, believes in facing conditions as they exist. "I am one of those," he says, "who believe in the use of wine and beer. The surest cure for the misuse of them is the proper use of them. The man who drinks beer in his home with his family and children about him will get no harm himself nor do any harm to any one else because he drinks. The man who spends an hour with a group of friends, among whom are women he respects, over one or two glasses of beer or light wine, as do some European people, will get no harm from it. The beer gardens of Germany are positive forces for good in the social life of that country."

That is the reverend gentleman's tolerant and rational attitude on the question, and had he gone further and examined into the merits of the various beers he would have agreed with some of our most eminent physicians that Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the best means to temperance because of its small percentage of alcohol and its great food value. He would also have recommended Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, as do the doctors, "in preference to all other beers because it is the absolutely clean beer,—the beer that is absolutely pure, never touched by human hands and never in contact with any air except sterilized and filtered air from the time it is brewed till it is poured into your glass." That is what one well-known doctor said of it.

Other doctors say Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the cleanest, purest, most wholesome beer brewed and our readers will agree with us that the doctors ought to know.

DOES NOT LIKE ENGLISH TAILOR

Oliver Answers Protest Against Military Clothes Designer.

Washington, June 26.—In reply to one of the labor organizations which protested that the "importation" of George V. Winters, an English tailor, by the war department to bring the uniforms of the United States army up to the English standard in the matter of "smartness" and "jauntiness," was a violation of the contract labor law, Acting Secretary Oliver has addressed a letter to the labor organization, in which he says:

"Mr. Winters was not engaged in consturcting new models for our uniforms or to make the slightest change in them; he is only to revise and modify the patterns by which the clothing is cut, with the idea of improving the set of the garments and introducing into their general appearance a more distinctly military effect and to make samples of the same from his patterns, but according to our established specifications. These, it is understood, have been made in London and shipped to the United States.

"Mr. Winters was to send the completed samples and patterns to this country, and himself follow in order to make explanations or give instructions to the foreman cutter at Philadelphia. The samples and patterns are entirely for uniforms for enlisted men, which are entirely manufactured under contract, and in which it has not seen how merchant tailors can have any interest."

Mr. Winters was due in New York today on the Kron Prinz.

JUDGE RUSSELL IN ATLANTA.

He Intends to Make Three Speeches in Atlanta Before the Campaign Closes.

Judge Richard B. Russell, candidate for governor from Jackson county, was at the Kimball house last night shaking hands with the advance guard of the general assembly. Judge Russell was merely passing through Atlanta on his way to address the voters of one of the northern counties of the state upon the issues of the campaign.

Asked when he would speak in Atlanta, Judge Russell said:

"Not until a few days before the campaign closes. Just before the campaign closes on August 22, I expect to make three speeches in Fulton county."

GENERAL BALDWIN RETIRES.

Colonel Walter Duggan Will Succeed Him.

Washington, June 26.—Brigadier General Frank D. Baldwin, commanding the southern military division, with headquarters at Oklahoma City, was placed on the retired list today by the operation of the law on account of age. The vacancy in the list of brigadier generals caused by his retirement will be filled by the promotion of Colonel Walter T. Duggan, now in command of the First infantry in the Philippines.

Crowd Sees Parade.

Buffalo, June 26.—The parade of the uniformed Knights of St. John here yesterday drew an immense crowd. The following commanderies won prizes for drill work and general appearance: First, No. 89, Columbus, Ohio; second, No. 117, Columbus, Ohio; third, No. 104, Dayton, Ohio; fourth, No. 39, Rochester, N. Y.; fifth, No. 36, Cleveland, Ohio.

Duncan Was Convicted of Charge.

Macon, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—The second charge of moonshining for the week n the federal court today was that against Charles Duncan, a Macon county negro. A jury found him guilty and Judge Speer allowed him to make bond and return in December to serve out his sentence. He is a farmer

After Pardon for Summers.

Montgomery, Ala., June 26.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Summers are trying to get a pardon for W. J. Summers, their son, convicted eight years ago in Culman county for killing Mage Lee. Summers pleaded guilty to second degree murder to save his wife the details of the court trial.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT UNIVERSITY

The Fourth Annual Session Was Opened Yesterday Morning.

Athens, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—The fourth annual session of the University of Georgia Summer school opened this morning with an attendance that went considerably beyond that of the last session for the opening day. Everything points to a record-breaking attendance upon this session.

The teachers who are already here are from a number of states, the majority of course being from Georgia. They represent a majority of the counties in Georgia, and for the most part are teachers in the common schools of the state.

Superintendent T. J. Woofter is well pleased with the opening and is confident that the session will be replete with interest and full of benefit to all who attend. The faculty this year has been chosen with a great deal of care and the course of study arranged with the end in view of giving the teachers exactly what they desired and making their stay more beneficial to them than ever before.

There were no formal opening exercises today, but the real opening came tonight at the chapel when Dr. Roland D. Grant, one of the best lecturers in the country, lectured on "Yellowstone—Scenic and Scientific." Dr. Grant's lecture was listened to with rare interest and the large audience was delighted. He will deliver four other lectures during the present week and will be followed by other distinguished lecturers during the session of the school.

The classes are already being formed rapidly and by tomorrow will be down to hard and effective work. The rooms in the dormitories on the campus have already been engaged to the limit by ladies who are to attend this session, but those who still come are to be found accommodation in the homes near the campus.

RUSSELL OPENS HEADQUARTERS

Lewis Russell, Brother of Candidate, Is in Charge.

Macon, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Lewis C. Russell, brother of Judge Dick Russell, opened headquarters here today for this gubernatorial candidate, and he will be here tomorrow to make arrangements for an address to Bibb voters. Judge Russell has just closed a canvass of the northern portion of the state and will now give his attention to South Georgia.

DIES OF WOUND HE INFLICTED

Homer Hancock Lingered Three Weeks After Shooting Himself.

Commerce, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Homer Hancock, son of B. W. Hancock, of Jefferson, died at the home of his father last night. About three weeks ago, while in a despondent mood, he took a pistol and shot himself. The ball entered the left breast, ranging upward, and lodged in the region of the shoulder. The wound was dressed, though the ball was never removed as it could not be located. Mr. Hancock improved rapidly until last Saturday night, when a second hemorrhage set in that could not be checked.

POSTPONED MORRIS MATTER.

Senator Tillman Too Ill to Take Up Affair.

Washington, June 26.—Senator Hillman stated in the senate today that he had intended to call up his resolution for an investigation of the ejection on last January of Mrs. Minor Morris from the white house, but that the condition of his health was such that he could not do so. He therefore moved to take up the railroad rate bill instead and the motion prevailed.

RATE BILL SENT BACK.

Senate Refused to Accept Conference Report.

Washington, June 26.—After two or three more speeches on the conference report on the railroad rate bill the senate today sent the bill back to conference again designating Senators Tillman, Elkins and Cullom as conferees.

During the day the naval appropriation bill, which has been in conference for several weeks, was finally passed, the senate receding from its amendment concerning the naval training station at Port Royal, S. C., which was the only item remaining in controversy. The most interesting incident was a conflict over a motion by Senator Lafollette to enter upon the consideration of the bill limiting to sixteen hours the time railroad employees engaged in the movement of trains may be employed consecutively. There was great difficulty in securing a voting quorum, but the requisite number ultimately was obtained. Several speeches were made on the bill. The senate adjourned at 4:35 p. m., until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

The Lady Evelyn.

From London comes a well-nigh incredible story of the famous Earl of Melbourne's early escapades that is shaking the British aristocracy to its very foundations. As may be recalled, the Hon. Robert Forrester succeeded to the earldom unexpectedly through the death of his distant cousin, the late Earl.

Now, just as England was growing used to the big bluff man with the breezy outdoor manners comes the revelation of his early misdeeds. It seems that as a young man he was an attache of the British embassy at Bucharest, Roumania. While there he became associated with the famous outlaw Zallony, and actually joined the latter's band, his wild excesses and crimes gaining for him the title of "The Mad Englishman."

He married Mlle. d'Istran, a noted gypsy beauty, who died soon after, leaving him with one child, a daughter, who has since become known in London society as the beautiful Lady Evelyn, and whose strange escapades and charm of personality have drawn upon her no little fame and public comment.

It appears that a Roumanian, whose hatred the Earl incurred, has now tracked his old foe to England, and demands the hand of the Lady Evelyn as the price of her father's life. To further complicate matters, the young lady is reported betrothed to Gavin Ord, the famous young architect.

As the Roumanian is a desperate man, the situation has grown tense. How tense it is can only be realized by reading "The Lady Evelyn," Max Pemberton's latest and most thrilling novel, which will appear serially in this paper beginning Sunday, July 1. It will be published in five large weekly instalments, handsomely illustrated. Order in advance.

"The Lady Evelyn" is the third novel of the Authors and Newspapers Association's great $150,000 series. The association has chosen this paper as its representative to issue this great story exclusively, in the city and vicinity, before it appears in book form. In this way our readers will be enabled to read the entire story before it is offered for book publication, and at infinitely lower cost than can buyers of the book itself.

Sporting Event.

"So the village paper has engaged the services of a sporting editor?" interrogated the new arrival at Bacon Ridge. "Any late event of importance in the sporting world?"

"Wall, I should say so," replied the village postmaster in rather resentful tones. "Why, by gum, all the star sports that hang around Josh Oldham's general store have stopped playing checkers behind the stove and started playing croquet on the village green."

WILL SPEAK AT SPARTA, GA.

President Harvie Jordan Will Address Planters at a Big Rally on July 4.

Although besieged by invitations to speak on the Fourth of July, all of which were declined. President Harvie Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, accepted the invitation of President John D. Walker, of the Hancock county division of the Southern Cotton Association, to address the planters of that county at a big rally to be held at the county seat, Sparta, on that day.

For some weeks past President Jordan has been in demand, being invited to speak on the Fourth of July at places in nearly every state in the south, but Sparta was given the preference. Fully three thousand people are expected to attend the exercises to be held there on that day, undr the auspices of the County Cotton Association, and a big military parade will add to the interest of the occasion.

ARREST SUPPOSED BURGLAR.

Police Believe They Have Captured Negro Who Has Been Looting Residences.

Officers Borne and Reed succeeded last night in capturing Paul Green, a negro, who has been wanted for some time by the police department. The negro was found on Peters street, and he was carrying at the time two suits of clothes, a pair of shoes, and a panama hat.

The negro is suspected of being the burglar, who for sometime past, has been doing the daylight act on Capitol avenue and Crew street. Further investigation by the detective force, and if possible the identification of the clothes now in their possession will undoubtedly aid in finding out whether the negro is guilty of other burglaries or not.

SHORT STORIES OF LOCAL FIELD

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF the town of Kirkwood, Ga., held an enthusiastic meeting last evening, this being the first meeting of the new board. The new school building is also nearing completion, and the first term of school will begin September 1. The board is anxious to secure an up-to-date male principal and female assistant, and will be pleased to receive applications.

FRED WILLIAMS, A PLASTERER, whse home is on Luckie street, was severely hurt by the breaking of a scaffold upon which he was working in a new building on Hemphill avenue yesterday afternoon. One hip was dislocated, an arm was broken and an ugly scalp wound was inflicted. He was removed to his home, where Dr. Johnson rendered the necessary surgical attention.

THE TRUSTEES OF THE GRADY hospital held their regular monthly session yesterday afternoon. Only routine business was transacted. The erection of a new ward for negroes was talked of, but no action was taken.

AT THE POLICE MATINEE YESTERDAY afternoon W. C. Boyd, who created such an excitement on East Fair street Saturday night, was declared sane. Dr. John G. Wilkins, the city physician, stated that Boyd was suffering from the effects of alcohol. Judge Broyles bound Boyd over for pointing a gun at another under a $200 bond.

JOHN SIMPSON, A NEGRO, WAS fined $25.75 by the recorder yesterday afternoon for having liquors in his possession for the purpose of sale. Plain Clothes Officers Rowan, Starnes and Rosser, who made the arrest, found several bottles of whisky in the negro's home.

AT THE WELLS STREET CROSSING yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a Southern railway passenger train ran over two city mules, killing one. The driver of the wagon jumped to the ground and escaped injury. Officer Camp made a case against the railway company. The wagon belonged to the Atlanta sanitary department.

JOHN LITTLEJOHN AND THIRTEEN other negroes, who were captured in a raid by Sergeant Lanford yesterday afternoon, were fined by the recorder. Littlejohn was assessed $25.75 and the others $15.75 each.

M. GREENBLAT, A PAWNBROKER at 251½ Marietta street, was fined $5.75 by the recorder yesterday morning for abusing Officer R. J. Brown, who went into the pawnshop to recover a bicycle which had been stolen. Greenblat denied that he was abusive, but the witnesses testified against him.

MRS. J. E. WINSLOW, WHO RESIDES at 139 South Pryor street, was arraigned in the recorder's court yesterday morning on the charge of keeping a disorderly house. There were some twenty-five neighbors present to testify against her. She asked permission to move, and was given until July 1 to do so. The complainants were willing for the case to take this direction.

THE FOLLOWING MUSICAL PROGRAMME was rendered at Fort McPherson by the Seventeenth infantry band, Bert Neilson, chief musician, last Monday afternoon: March, "The Dazzler," J. C. Heed; overture, "Lustspiel," Keiler Hazel; waltz, "You and You," from comic opera, "The Bat," Joh Strauss; selection, "Pirates of Penzance," Sullivan; Spanish fandango, "The Pearl of Madrid," George Bachman; intermezzo, "Priscilla," S. TOM O'HARA STOPS FUNERAL.

Chief of The O'Hara Clan Objected To Black Hearse for Nephew's Obsequies.

Tom O'Hara, the leader of the famous O'Hara clan of wanderers, delayed the funeral of his young nephew, Pat O'Hara, for some time yesterday afternoon, in order that a black hearse, which was about to be used to convey the body of his nephew to the last resting place, could be changed for a white one.

The father of the deceased, Edward O'Hara, had ordered the black hearse, but when the chief came to the funeral he offered strenuous objections to the vehicle and he and the rest of his followers refused to allow the funeral to go on until a white hearse was produced from the undertaker. This was done and the funeral services were finished without other interference.

COLONEL ESTILL AT FITZGERALD

The Candidate and Colonel Morgan Discuss Campaign Issues.

Fitzgerald, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Despite semi-torrid weather a goodly crowd assembled at the opera house tonight to listen to a discussion of the issues of the present campaign by Colonel J. H. Estill. A liberal sprinkling of federal veterans were among the audience and heartily encored the plain, yet logical, address of the confederate veteran.

Hon. Thomas S. Morgan followed Colonel Estill, and was repeatedly interrupted by hearty applause.

BARBECUE TO DR. JACOBS.

Was Entertained by Number of His Friends on Eve of Departure to Europe.

Dr. Joe Jacobs was the guest of a large gathering of his friends at a most delightful barbecue on the banks of the reservior, west of the city, yesterday noon, the occasion being exchange of good fellowship previous to the Doctor's departure tomorrow for Europe.

Cool, invigorating winds swept the high banks upon which the pavilion rests and where tables, chairs and dishes had been collected for the feast. In the grove a hundred yards away, Billy Sparks, Georgia's greatest 'cue artist, was working over the pits upon which a pig, a lamb and a half dozen chickens were being done to the turn, while the Brunswick stew, the salads and the other good things were being prepared. It was a feast which was enjoyed to the limit by all present.

After every appetite had been appeased Louis Gholstein was presented to express to Dr. Jacobs the regrets his friends feel at the temporary departure and assert that his return would be gladly welcomed not only by those who were present, but by his friends throughout the state and the city.

Among those present were Frank T. Ryan, Charles Northen, Major Hoyle, Park Woodward, W. B. Roberts, Frank Beck, Dr. VanDyke, H. H. Cabaniss, Eugene Obendorfer, Don Baine, B. M. Blackburn, A. J. McBride, Tom Morgan, John McCullough, Fred Palmer, J. H. Graham, L. Gholstein, W. L. Mansfield, Geo. Lowman, Otto Schwab, Steve Johnson and Harry Silverman.

Y. M. C. A. COMMITTEE MET.

Several Matters of Importance Were Discussed by the Devotional Committee Last Night.

The devotional committee of the Young Men's Christian Association met last night in the secretary's office to transact a number of matters of importance. In the absence of the chairman of this committee, Mr. W. C. Mansfield, by motion of Mr. White, the secretary, Edward Young Clarke was requested to preside over the meeting.

A motion was passed during the session of the committee requesting the secretary of the association to go before the board of directors and ask to employ a religious work director who will have charge of the religious departments of the association.

A motion was also passed directing the chairman to appoint a committee to select a man for the association week of prayer, which is to be held in November.

A suggestion was made at the meeting which seemed to have the hearty approval of all present, that there should be more life put into the Sunday afternoon meetings, and that it would be a good plan to have an orchestra play at the association every Sunday afternoon from 3 to 3:30 o'clock.

FIRST MESSAGE ON JULY 10.

Atlanta Wireless Telegraph Station Is Now Almost Completed.

Manager Finch, of the Atlanta office of the DeForest Wireless Telegraph Company, said yesterday morning that the initial wireless message from Atlanta would be transmitted from the Atlanta station to the Charleston office about July 10. The large mast to be used by the wireless people is being erected on the Candler building and the local office will be complete in a short while. Manager Finch left last night for Charleston, where he goes to superintend the final work on the South Carolina coast station.

CHARTIER MERITS BRING ATTACKS

Convincing Demonstration of Merits of Chartier System of Shorthand.

To the Public:

In an article a few days ago I stated a new system of stenography was sweeping over the country that promised to revolutionize the study of shorthand; that the rapidity with which it is written and its legibility give its special claims for favoritism. I further stated, upon which I based the truth of my statement, that many of the leading business colleges were rapidly adopting it, and that one of the best local evidences of the superior merits of the system was to be found in its adoption by Prof. J. O. Bagwell, a former Tech instructor and a graduate of Mercer, who at this time is president of Bagwell's Business College and School of Shorthand, 198 Peachtree. All of which brought forth from a competitive school, under title of "Another Fake Exposed," a vigorous assault and a $1,000 challenge to shut up or show up. Professor Bagwell, in whom everybody has the utmost confidence, proposes to show up. He will not shut up. He proposes, in a word, to prove by actual tests every claim that he has made for the Chartier, and will arrange with his competitor for the selection of judges in deciding the $1,000 forfeit to be made, in case he produces a pupil able to write 100 words (practice matter) after three weeks' study; a better stenographer after three months' study than the competitive school; or a better stenographer after six months or any period of time. The contests will be decided at once just as soon as detail arrangements between the contracting parties can be perfected.

MASTER JAMES BEATTIE,
Who, After Ten Days' Study, Wrote Fifty Words of Shorthand Per Minute—Unfamiliar Matter.

A Convincing Demonstration.

A convincing demonstration of the ability of students to acquire and utilize the Chartier system with facility after two weeks' study was held before me in the office of the college yesterday morning. A student, James Beattie, son of Dr. Geo. A. Beattie, residing at No. 400 Courtland street, was called from the class rooms and told to take a dictation. A young man whom I did not know, a prospective student, took from his pocket and read, I should say, about 50 words a minute, which Mr. Beattie readily took down and reported back without the slightest hesitation or error.

Young Mr. Beattie, a remarkably bright and intelligent boy, began the study of Chartier shorthand only two weeks ago, since which he has made phenomenal progress.

Professor Bagwell does not claim that it is possible to become an accomplished stenographer in ten or fifteen days; but what he does claim is that in half the time required by the antiquated methods, one may become proficient in shorthand through the study of the Chartier, a system whose merits he does not expect his competitor to come out and openly and above board indorse at the expense of the old one he has in use.

E. L. PARKER.

POLICE ARREST SAILOR.

Found Dynamite Cap, Brimstone and Sulphur on Homer Newman When Arrested.

It is thought by the local police department that Homer Newman, now confined in the state ward of the station house, that they have landed a criminal of note.

Newman is an averaged sized American, a sailor, has light red hair, weighs about 150 pounds and is about 5 feet 11 inches tall. In his manner he is very shrewd and reticent.

Plain Clothes Officers Rosser and Rowan, who made the arrest last Saturday, found on Newman a dynamite cap, some brimstone and sulphur. He, according to them, was selling hoo-doo bags, telling fortunes, and doing such other things of that nature. When questioned by them he stated that he was a native of Texas. He was on his way home when they caught him.

The trial is set for this morning before Judge Broyles, when it is hoped the mystery which seems to surround the man will be cleared up and his identity revealed.

COFFEE COUNTY HEARS HOWELL

the county, and was more than gratified by the assurances which came to him from every quarter that they proposed to make Coffee county his on the day of the primary.

Mr. Howell spoke in the courthouse at 1 o'clock, where he had a large and representative audience of five hundred leading citizens of Coffee, and the repeated applause which they gave him at almost every point in his address, applause which was general throughout the audience, was indicative of the fact that they were strongly with him.

Judge Ward Introduces Mr. Howell.

Mr. Howell was presented to his audience in a brief and appropriate address by Judge W. H. Ward, of Coffee county, a well-known lawyer. Judge Ward referred briefly to the pending campaign, saying the people had up to the present time heard only one of the five candidates, but were anxious to hear them all in order that they might know how to best make up their minds and cast their ballots. He said Mr. Howell is a finished Georgian who has been well known in public life and as editor of the south's greatest newspaper for many years.

"As a legisaltor," Judge Ward said, "he has had occasion to study and present to you his views upon many, if not all the public questions upon which the people of Georgia have had to pass for the last fifteen years or more. There is nothing, therefore, that is hidden about his views or about his record. Both are open to the inspection of the people of his state, and that record is one of able and distinguished service in behalf of the people of Georgia.

"Speaking for myself, I have had this young man in my eye for the past twenty years, and during that time I have watched his career with pride and satisfaction."

Judge Ward told of the letter written Mr. Howell on his twenty-first birthday by Henry W. Grady, in which, along with other good advice, he urged him to build up his state and his community, as there were plenty of men ready and eager to do the tearing down. That advice was good then, and it is good for the young man of today.

In conclusion Judge Ward said:

"I have said more than one time that of anybody announced for governor, that the gentleman who is now to address you, is one of the most prominent men not only in Georgia, but in the entire south.

Mr. Howell Discusses the Issues.

Adding to the general enthusiasm of the meeting, applause again greeted Mr. Howell as the band ceased, and he was about to begin to speak. Mr. Howell said he proposed only to discuss the issues before the people today, and in no wise to indulge in personalities, except in so far as is necessary in discussing the public record of those involved in this campaign.

"There is nothing in my own record that I want to conceal and I have invited them or anyone else who desires to inspect that record and criticize as they will. If I can answer the criticism I will do so, and if not I will not wince it, but I propose to criticise their public records where they are open to criticism and such criticism is not in any sense abuse. I shall do nothing so far as they are concerned that I have not invited them to do in my case." (Applause.)

Disfranchisement Fraud Exposed.

Mr. Howell gave his hearers some information regarding the disfranchisement question. They had heard only one side of the question, that presented by Hoke Smith on the occasion of his recent address here, and many were under the impression that it was merely the purpose to shut the negro out from the ballot. When it was made clear that the purpose was to create an educational qualification which, under an honest operation, must operate alike against the whites and glacks, and which must necessarily disfranchise thousands of illiterate but worthy white citizens all over the state, while admitting as many more educated negroes to the ballot, they took the other view of the situation and many were open in their statement that they could not give their sanction and endorsemet to any such doctrine as that.

As Mr. Howell developed his argument against the disfranchisement fraud, showing how Georgia had met and solved this problem 30 years ago, and the danger of tampering with the ballot in a way that would take the franchise away from many of the white men, he was repeatedly applauded in a way which showed the increasing interest of his audience and the fact that his hearers were ready to give his views their full endorsement.

Especially did Mr. Howell show how even the discussion of this disfranchisement question had disturbed and affected labor conditions to the great disadvantage of the farmer, and everybody else who has to employ labor. Particularly is this true in the southern section of the state, where labor has gone up high and higher, and frequently it is impossible to get it at all.

Negro Boys in School; White Boys at Work.

"The trouble is the negro boy is getting bowlegged carrying his books to school to learn how to vote, while the white boy has to stay on the farm to aid in harvesting the crops," Mr. Howell said. He showed that in a majority of the counties of the state there are more negro children in the public schools than whites.

Mr. Howell showed that he had more right to be considered the sponsor of the lower freight rate movement than Hoke Smith, for the latter's first efforts in this direction came in the shape of his services as a lawyer for which he was paid a fee to which Mr. Howell himself contributed, after having persistently fought through his newspaper for the removal of unjust rate discrimination. In calling attention to the fact that Hoke Smith's campaign had been based largely upon a general denunciation and abuse of the democratic officials of the state for the past 25 years, Mr. Howell said: "If Mr. Smith was so eager for reform, if he thought the whole state had gone wrong for years past, why didn't he take the first opportunity to bring about the reform for which he is now so clamorous; why didn't he support DuPont Guerry four years ago when Guerry stood for practically the same views he stands for today.

When Smith Became a "Reformer."

"The reason is, fellow citizens, because he did not become a reformer, nor did he discover all these things he talks about today—evils which exist largely in his own imagination—until he became a candidate for governor and sought to further his cause by an appeal to the prejudices and passions of the people." (Applause.)

Mr. Howell discussed all the issues in connection with the campaign. He took up the charges by Hoke Smith in his Rome speech, in response to Mr. Howell's demand, and showed upon what baseless foundations they rest. His complete answer to Smith's weak and feeble speech was greeted by loud applause from his audience. Mr. Howell's hearers crowded around him at the conclusion of his address and congratulations came upon him thick and fast. He was kept busy for some minutes expressing his thanks and gratification over the many offers of support that voluntarily came to him from every side.

HE WELCOMES INSPECTION.

Armour Says Packers Are in Favor of Laws.

New York, June 26.—J. Ogden Armour, head of one of the largest of the Chicago packing houses, accompanied by his wife and daughter Lolita, who has been under the care of Professor Lorenz in Vienna, arrived here today on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm.

With reference to the recent investigation of the packing houses and suggested legislation, Mr. Armour said:

"The packers will welcome any good inspection law and any suggestion for improvement. The better the laws the better they will suit the packers. All the talk about discrediting the packing industry of this country was unnecessary and, above all, was untrue. The packers have tried every year to improve their facilities and make improvements generally."

The total number of passengers carried over the railroad during the year amounted to 273,165, as against 114,000 in 1904.

UP TO THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE.

The labor problem throughout the south is reaching that acute stage where it seems to occupy the waking thoughts of the southern farmer and business man and to disturb their sleep by night. It is a powerful tribute to the restless spirit of development and prosperity that commercial authorities in all walks of life should, without previous consultation and from tip to tip of the south, express views on this topic almost identical in tone and urgency.

The Manufacturer's Record of Baltimore, which has systematically hammered away on a remedy for the labor deficiency, published last week a symposium eloquently demonstrating these facts. While its scope is national, it is noticeable that the greater clamor comes from the southern section of the country.

It will be noticed that the interviews with Georgia men emphasize, not alone the lack of labor, but the demoralization of that even now available, especially for work on farms in this state. It should be borne in mind, in this connection, that the movement for alleged negro disfranchisement in Georgia selfishly desregards a situation already deplorable, and through its utterly needless agitation is throwing additional obstacles in the way of men who are working under a sore handicap toward a solution.

In that their views reflect conditions existing in territory contigious to Atlanta and Georgia, The Constitution reproduces paragraphic extracts from men of known standing and knowledge, where their utterances shed a suggestive light on tentative measures of relief.

For instance, Wilbur McCoy, agricultural and immigration agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, advances, in the following language, ideas the value of which The Constitution has stressed on many previous occasions:

> The solution of the labor question in the south to me can only be arrived at in the agricultural territory by securing small farmers, and instead of our farmers trying to work large plantations of anywhere from 500 to 5,000 acres on the wage system, they must divide up this land or plantations and sell to small farmers—men who are good truckers and good farmers, but of limited means—in tracts of 40 and 80 acres and upwards. This will to a great extent settle the labor question in the agricultural territory, and I do not know of anything else that ever will, and I think that every inducement should be offered in the way of reasonable prices, time payments, etc., to induce skilled farmers, either from the north or from other countires, to take up our southern lands.

Milton R. Bacon, president of the Bacon Equipment Company, of Albany, Ga., sounds a very prevalent note:

> In our opinion, the best way to secure unskilled labor in the south is to have more strict vagrancy laws and to enforce them. If all the idlers and barroom bums throughout the country were made to work, importation of labor would not be necessary.

President K. G. Matheson, of the Georgia School of Technology, speaking more particularly of the skilled labor phase, says:

> Constant and increasing demands are being made for this labor, and the supply is very limited. From contractors and others I learn that the individual mechanic, generally speaking, is less efficient than formerly. This condition is attributed to the great demand for labor and the shortage which forces employers to take, not what they want, but what they can get. From the daily papers I learn that efforts are being made to induce foreigners to locate in Georgia, in common with other neighboring southern states. My opinion is that labor conditions will soon compel the states to organize an immigration bureau to locate foreign labor within our boundries.

V. H. Kriegshaber, prominent locally as a manufacturer and dealer in building supplies, states that conditions, "as far as common labor is concerned, could not be worse." He believes relief must be sought through immigration, systematically and intelligently administered by a state bureau devoted to that purpose.

W. M. Scott & Co., real estate dealers, of Atlanta, give, in the following language, a valuable insight into the prosperous condition of the Georgia farmer, and the manner in which he is embarrassed for labor:

> The farmer is distressed, for farming pays, as is evidenced by the fact that all our country banks are loaded down with surplus money of the farmer. The time is near at hand when he will either have to curtail planting or import help. No organized efforts to increase the supply. There never was a country more prosperous than the south is today.

> In my opinion, it is necessary that the supply of labor be increased, in order that we may keep up with the rapid expansion of the industrial interests of the southern states. I trust that I have made myself plain to you, and that some scheme may be developed whereby the labor stringency will be relieved.

Jacob Phinizy, president of the Georgia Railroad bank, has views largely in common with those of Mr. Bacon, of Albany:

> In my opinion, the only means to increase the supply of labor (with the exception, possibly, of a healthy and thrifty element of foreigners) is to get enacted national and state laws of a very stringent type that will blot out from a community what is known as the vagrant and loiterer. In the city in which I live, which has a population of 40,000 to 50,000, I am satisfied that if the law was behind me I could force to the country to the farms 500 or possibly more negro men and boys who are absolutely needed at this time upon the farms.

Brobston, Fendig & Co., of Brunswick, who have done much in immigration and settlement direction, take a stand often occupied by The Constitution—that we should look essentially for home-makers:

> It has been our observation that where laborers have been brought in without their families accompanying they are unsatisfied and will not stay, but where they have their families with them and their homes they do well and prosper. There are other classes of labor besides saw-mill men who could adopt the same means, and in that way a large amount of desirable immigrants brought in who would be satisfied.

R. I. Mealor, manager of the Gainesville iron works, Gainesville, Ga., expresses opinions which hold worthy suggestions for every community in the south, in the line of helping themselves and deserving white boys simultaneously:

> The plan that we have pursued has been that we take the boys of this town and train them for our work, and we always have plenty of good help. All the men that we have in our shops except two or three we have trained, and we do not have any trouble with our help. In our opinion, what is needed more than anything is to train the boys and pay them as you would any others. The most trouble that most of the shops have with their help is they do not pay the boys as much as they would pay a transient, and the boys get dissatisfied and look for a better place, and we do not blame the boys. There do does not seem to be any effort being made in this section to have immigrants come in.

Quotations could be made indefinitely from other southern business men, but the ones offered portray with a significant unanimitty the Georgia and the southern viewpoints on a very immient problem. It will be seen that, roughly speaking, these men, all thoroughly cognizant of the conditions they discuss, point out five phases, each offering partial solution:

1. The small farm system.
2. Rigid enforcement of the vagrancy laws.
3. Restricted immigration, under supervision of the state.
4. Attracting settlers, as permanent residents.
5. Extending such help to worthy white boys and men as will teach them profitable occupations, and induce them to remain in one place.

There are, of course, other features and complications to the situation as it applies to labor and general southern development. The ones outlined, however, should be valuable to the thoughtful business man, as showing a broad outline of distinctly feasible remedies, as well as the necessity for their application by the people of the south.

Making an Example of Rebaters.

One federal judge has done much to restore the faith of the American people in the just administration of the law of the land by the federal courts.

At Kansas City, a few days ago, Judge McPherson, of the United States district court, assessed a fine of $6,000 and imposed a jail sentence of four months on one rebater. Another was fined $4,000 with an imprisonment term of four months. Five corporations were fined $15,000 each.

In some vital particulars these Kansas City rebate cases will be taken as a precedent for similar prosecutions in various states of the union. The individual cases were tried under the conspiracy laws of the United States and conviction was not difficult.

These cases threw much new light on the devious methods of the rebater. The individuals convicted were professional rebate agents or go-betweens who brought the common carriers and the shippers together on a rebate agreement for a commission. It develops that rebates are such an institution that lawyers and commercial agents find it profitable—and heretofore have found it safe—to secretly arrange the terms of transportation between the interested parties, and for their services receive a fat per cent of the saving from the regular transportation rates.

In imposing the fines and jail sentences, Judge McPherson sounded a warning to all classes cocerned in the rebate practice—the carriers, the shippers and their go-betweens. He concluded:

> I state my belief that discriminations and concessions and rebates will never be brought to an end until carriers and shippers alike are made to understand that all are guilty of a crime. The ingenuity of traffic managers in devising rebates and concessions is no greater than can be uncovered. A recent writer has said that there are more than fifty methods in use. But they are all stupid and silly. Whether they are given in the form of salaries, or commissions, or for switching, or for private cars, or demurrage, or false claims for damages, or false weights, or false classifications, or covered by illegal contracts, valid in form, makes no difference.

Under the new rate bill the penalty of imprisonment is expected to have a salutary influence in deterring corporations from listening to the blandishments of the rebate agents. Even a fine of $15,000, such as Judge McPherson imposed in the Kansas City cases, would not seriously influence some corporations in some financially profitable contingencies from giving rebates. They would still find a fat balance on the safe side of the ledger. However, if the officials of the guilty corporation are sent to jail for a few months for violating the law, they may not be so inclined to listen to rebate propositions, and the same is true in its application to shippers who ask for rebates.

It remains to be determined how much latitude the courts will be able to exercise in punishing corporations for this illegal practice. If the individuals responsible for rebating can screen themselves from imprisonment by hiding behind the "corporate entity," while the corporation is let off with a more or less heavy fine, the penal feature of the new law will be shorn of half its potency.

Atlanta's $1,000,000 Building.

A new $1,000,000 federal building for Atlanta is now assured. The passage of the omnibus public building bill by the house yesterday places it beyond the possibility of failure.

Georgia fares exceedingly well in the omnibus bill. Probably no other state in the union is as well cared for in proportion to its needs, certainly none is better cared for.

Much of the credit for this is due to Representative Brantley, of the eleventh district, who is one of the strongest members of the committee on public buildings and grounds. Mr. Brantley is a member of the subcommittee to which the various projects of Georgia and several other southern states were entrusted, and he is also a member of the revision committee which has charge of the final shaping up of the omnibus bill. With several hundred public building bills pending before the committee, and with every member of the house seeking recognition for projects in his district, the task of making an omnibus bill within the limit of appropriation that the condition of the treasury would permit has been no easy one.

Mr. Brantley has done his work well. Of course he has had the assistance of the members interested in the different Georgia projects. The final result shows the $1,000,000 Atlanta building in Colonel Livingston's district; a $125,000 building in Mr. Brantley's own district at Valdosta; a $125,000 building in Judge Griggs' district at Albany; a $50,000 building in Mr. Lewis' district at Americus; a $45,000 building in Mr. Bell's district at Gainesville, and also appropriations for sites for future buildings at Newnan in Judge Adamson's district, at Marietta in Mr. Lee's district, and at Griffin in Judge Bartlett's district.

Altogether Georgia has fared excellently well.

"A Populist on the Situation."

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

Under the above heading The Atlanta Georgian prints a communication from Mr. J. B. Howard, of Adrian.

Mr. Howard comes within the terms used by Mr. Watson, "a true populist," who believes that the best way to "bust up" the democracy is to enter the democratic primary and help force upon the party one most objectionable to "true" democrats. He not only carries the knife, as Watson does, but, like Watson, he does not mind showing it—"fully exposed to view." Howard says he is for Hoke. Democrats who are not asleep, or who are not blinded by the anti-corporation and anti-nigger cry, know why. Howard says he is a populist, and does not say that he is going to lay down his populism and become a democrat "in good faith." No. He prides himself on his populism, and on his work for the party. He says:

> "Please permit me to say without attributing any great 'I amism' to myself, that I have been unanimously elected chairman of the executive committee of the populist party of Johnson county for the last twelve years, and we have not lost a battle during the time. We polled a big majority for Judge Harris when he was elected governor of Georgia, and a big majority for Tom Watson when he ran for president of the United States, and now stand ready to poll a big majority for Hoke Smith when the time comes. And here we rest, willing for our principles and patriotism to be measured by our actions and works, and not by loud-mouthed 'I am' proclamations. We now stand ready to call the populist party of Johnson county together when so ordered to do so by the chairman of the state executive committee of the populist party."

Now that man is going to vote in a democratic primary for Hoke Smith when the time comes! But he goes on to say that he will follow Watson, and not the populist committee, and will refuse to follow the lead of the committee in putting forward a populist ticket. Under Watson's advice, and the advice of The Atlanta Journal, he will stultify himself by "paying no attention to the little old words (the democratic pledge) put on the ballot by the printer."

If this man, and those like him, are to be permitted to vote in the approaching primary, then the democratic executive committee should issue a proclamation announcing that, in their opinion, the democratic party is disbanded, and dead. If he has no right to vote in a democratic primary, then the democratic executive committee should convene again and say so; should convene and adopt a resolution instructing democratic managers not to accept a ballot from any man who is not a democrat; and the way to find out who are democrats is to inquire who voted for the democratic candidate for president two years ago. That would fix it, and it needs fixing.

Repeal 28-Hour Law.

Washington, June 26.—The house today passed the senate bill which repeals the so-called twenty-eight hour law by fixing the maximum of time in transit for stock at thirty-six hours upon written request of the owner or person in charge of the particular shipment.

THE PASSING THRONG.

J. C. McKenmar, of Lexington, Miss., is among the arrivals at the Kimball. Mr. McKenmar was a resident of Atlanta twenty years ago, and is being given a warm greeting by old friends with whom he is meeting every day. This is his first visit to Atlanta since he went to Mississippi to make his home.

G. A. Jungeon, of Cincinnati, is registered at the Piedmont. Mr. Jungeon is one of the most widely-known traveling men who comes to Atlanta.

J. M. Wilcoxon, of Chattanooga, is at the Aragon, and will be in the city several days.

E. C. Brooks, of Richmond, Va., who has been visiting Atlanta nearly every month for fifteen years, is at the Piedmont.

Marshal Chapman, of Macon, came up yesterday morning and during the day was given a warm welcome by his many Atlanta friends. He returned home in the afternoon.

J. B. Semmes, of Montgomery, Ala., is among the guests at the Kimball.

James T. Brock, of Waco, Texas, is in Atlanta, at the Piedmont. An old Atlantan, with friends throughout the city, Tom Brock, he was known as Tom Brock by everyone before he went to the Lone Star state, where he has been decidedly successful in the cotton business, is being given the glad hand by all his old friends.

J. H. Drummond, of St. Andrews, Fla., is in the city visiting his kinsman, George C. Drummond. The Floridan, a full grown man, strong and healthy in appearance, bears a remarkable resemblance to the well known Atlantan, and shows himself as pleasant and affable to those with whom he comes in contact as is the Georgia Drummond. A native of Maine, Mr. Drummond has been a resident of Florida for several years, and is now a thorough Floridan in every sense of the word. He will be in the city several days days.

John K. Gewinner and Phil Tozzer, of Macon, both well known in that city and throughout Central Georgia, were among the arrivals at the Piedmont yesterday.

Judge Foster, of Madison, is at the Kimball.

"And that's Gordon? That's Gordon, the southron who reveled in fight and who was happy in times of peace," remarked G. A. Clairmont, of Reed City, Mich., as he and two or three companions, one being Bord Franklin, of The Detroit Free Press, gathered about the miniature monument to the man of war and also the man of peace whose name is written upon so many pages of Georgia history.

"And back there," remarked Mr. Franklin, pointing to the large canvas just behind the plaster cast in the state house lobby, "is Gordon again."

"Over there appears to be another," put in a third member of the party as he waved a hand to the eastern wall of the state house rotunda near the plaster model of the soldier, the orator and the statesman.

Michiganders, seven in number, reached Atlanta yesterday morning en route to Andersonville, where a spot is to be selected for a monument to officers of the state who died in that military prison during the war between the states. Already the Wolverine state has a marker within that historic enclosure, and it is one of the handsomest of the many stone and mental mementoes states of the union beyond the Potomac have dedicated to its sons whose death helped to bring martyrdom to the lamented Wirz. A breakfast at the Kimball gave the visitors a zest and an energy to inspect the city. The cool, invigorating air aroused their activity, and within the half dozen hours the railroad schedules gave them they covered with ease, interest in what they saw accelerating their stride, every point of interest to the readers of Atlanta history, from the Ben Hill home to the Walker battery in Grant park and the McPherson monument. The Grady monument, the old state house site now marked by a two-story building, the Leyden house and the Girls' High school both of which have been declared Sherman's headquarters, and the historic lamp post were viewed and inspected by the visitors, the Michiganders winding up at the state house whence they went to the Kimball for lunch, and thence to the depot for their train to Andersonville, where they will pass today.

Mr. Clairmont is one of the leading newspaper men of Michigan. Twenty years ago he started The Reed City Gazette, now one of the prosperous and successful afternoon publications of his state. He has been a member of the state senate and of the house of representatives, and is recognized throughout the state as a strong man intellectually.

"I was yet a lad when that terrible, horrible, fratricidal war took place," he said at the Kimball. "But my father was a soldier, a member of an Ohio regiment, at one time under the direct command of President McKinley. I have heard my father tell of that war. I have read histories of that war, and time and time again my father has pointed out to me what he called inaccuracies in the recital. And, believe it or not, every time he declared a mistake had been made, his correction was against the men with whom he fought, and in favor of the men against whom he fought. With him Gordon was a pean of glorification. He followed Sheridan in that Virginia valley campaign, and was at Cedar Creek. Like every soldier who was with Sheridan, my father worshiped him. And yet he talked of Gordon just as he talked of his commander. He admired both as fighters. He loved Sheridan and he respected Gordon. But as an orator and as a statesman after the war was over, no man, not even James G. Blaine, held a higher point in my father's mind. So, for that reason, if not for the reason that I am an American, I am glad I have been given an opportunity to look upon those paintings and that plaster figure of the man who knew how to fight, carrying in his heart when the battle was over fiercest love for the man he whipped and respect for and confidence in the man who may have vanquished him for the time being."

That hotel registers present oddities not only in chirogophy but in the mingling and in the mixing of names of men and the names of towns—places of residence to which the autographer credits himself, was most profoundly and emphatically shown yesterday.

"Beat that," remarked Mr. Bradstreet, behind the Piedmont counter, yesterday as he placed an index finger upon a line. "There's a name of seven letters. There are, at least I was so taught during my school attending days, just seven vowels in our alphabet. And to get the seven we had to reach out and pull in sometimes w and y. I don't know how it is taught now, for I occasionally hear children discuss most radical changes from my schoolboy days. Maybe the a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes w and y, as you and I—but say did you ever go to school? Yes? That's funny. Anyhow, that's the way you were taught. I guess that's so since you tell me you've been to school. But break it. Now there's a name with just seven letters, the stretch of the vowels, and in that name there's just one vowel. See?"

On the line indicated appeared 'Edw. Freschi, Milwaukee," a name easy to sound notwithstanding the presence of six consonants in that seven-letter name.

On the Aragon register a line showed "Max Wise, Kramerville, Va." Mr. Wise is a representative of one of the largest coal fields, near Pocahontas, on the state line between the old and the new commonwealths, and comes to Atlanta every summer to shake hands with his friends. At the Kimball counter Joe Burns, always alive and ever energetic in finding something odd, dropped his optics on the line. Then with that smile of wisdom he sometimes assumes, Joe Burns remarked:

"I can mate that. Let's see. It's 'Max Wise Kramerv——.' Yes, I've got it. See. Here's Wise Kramer or Maxwell Station, Penn.' How's that for a pair? Suit you?"

And it did suit. The line on the Aragon register was in a bold, clear handwriting, every letter being bold and distinct. The line on the Kimball register was made with apparent care and attention, and though not so attractive from a spencerian standpoint as the line upon the Aragon register, it was easy to read.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Not True Christians; Russian Barbarians!

Editor Constitution: Allow me to express my heartfelt thanks of gratitude to noble hearted, fearless William D. Upshaw for denouncing cabled reports that "Christians are slaughtering Jews in Russia." Russia has never had and fear it will take many centuries before she will have a true conception of the principles of Christianity. The reports should read "Dastardly barbarians are slaughtering Jews in Russia," and not polute the beautiful meaning which the name "Christian" conveys.

Oh God! Why are we Jews slaughtered mercilessly with greater fury than being torn by wild beasts? Shameless, in broad daylight, are wantonly outraged innocent girls before parents, and dashed out the brains of helpless children by these "Russians" for no other crime than that we were born Jews. Why should not the true Christians of the United States and the world at large enter a general protest against these outrages? The American people rise up like one man to help our brothers in distress when calamity befalls as we did during the eruption of Vesuvius or the earthquake in San Francisco, regardless of creed, nation, sex or color. Are we Jews doomed to suffer without anyone to protest?

I hope these brains dashed out from the helpless, innocent Jewish children by the Russian barbarians will fertilize the Russian soil and bring forth Jews of brains in thousand proportion greater than Spinoza, Mendelssonn, Heine, Disraeli, and thousands of others of our race and reach to the standard of perfection of the apostles and the Great Light of the nations, Jesus of Nazareth.

The Jew will continue to be a universal benefactor long after the annals of history will have dropped the name of Russia and the Christian will find his brother in the Jew and the Jew in the true Christian, as both are now recognizing the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. This will be our revenge. When the eminent scholar, Rabbi Rasche, had rendered medical and financial aid to a monk and the monk sought to express his appreciation, the rabbi protested: "Though divided in our opinions on religious matters, we stand united for everything pertaining to charity and the betterment of humanity at large." So stand the Jew and the true Christian today.

COMMITTEES WILL MEET.

Council Matters to Be Considered by Committee Meetings Today. Two Joint Sessions.

There will be two joint meetings of council committees today in the mayor's office.

The committees on streets and on electric and other railways, with the city attorney and the city engineer, will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon to take up the petition which was presented to council asking that the barricades placed over entrances to the yards of the Louisville and Nashville railroad be removed. The barricades were put up by order of the mayor, who took the position that the railroad was creating a nuisance by having too many entrances across the sidewalk on East Hunter street.

At noon today the ordinance, the cemetery and the statistical committees will have a joint session to consider an ordinance introduced by Councilman Terrell to obtain an amendment to the city charter to give the city power to have civil service in any of the departments.

The claims committee will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CLEVELAND

Services Held This Morning at 10 O'Clock at the Wallace Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Helen Howard Cleveland died at her residence, 143 Nelson street, at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Cleveland was the daughter of the late Anderson Howard, of Alabama, in which state she was born. On July 26, 1836, at the age of 22 years, she was married to Rev. Thomas P. Cleveland, in Jefferson, Jackson county, Georgia. During the dark days of the civil war she ministered lovingly to the sick and wounded soldiers, to whom she endeared herself by her tender ministrations.

Mrs. Cleveland is survived by her husband, Dr. T. P. Cleveland, her son, Rev. T. C. Cleveland, Mrs. H. P. Ashby, Mrs. H. F. D. Smith and Mrs. George T. Dickert.

The funeral sirvices will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Wallace Presbyterian church. Drs. Holderby and Bridewell, officiating.

MAY RELEASE JOE COPELAND.

Negro Seems to Have Acted in Self-Defense.

Dublin, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—Unless some evidence of which the public has no knowledge is brought to light, Joe Copeland, who is confined in jail charged with the killing of Dock Wright, Sam Mitchell and Dan Willburn, Sunday afternoon last at Strawberry church, 3 miles north of Dublin, will be released tomorrow when he is given a commitment trial.

Copeland admits killing Mitchell and Willburn. Both of the men began shooting at him, it is alleged, before he fired a shot. He killed Mitchell first, he states, and then shot Willburn. Both of the negroes were shot in the head, Mitchell twice. Dick Wright was a bystander and was killed by a ball from the pistol of Willburn, fired as he fell.

The row started over the efforts of Copeland and others to preserve order on the church grounds.

WARMLY PRAISES ANTI-JUG BILL

J. C. Solomon Addresses Letter to Legislature Asking Votes.

Officer of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League Makes Strong Appeal for Bill Which Will Come Before the Legislature at This Session.

J. C. Solomon, superintendent of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League, has addressed a strong letter to the members of the Georgia legislature, deploring the use of liquor and the existence of saloons in the state and urging the individual members of the house and senate to cast their votes in favor of the anti-jug bill which will come before the general assembly for consideration at this session.

The letter follows:

"To the Members of the Georgia Legislature: We are fully aware of the fact that yours will be a very busy session. Bills introduced in the last house are awaiting solution. Much new matter will doubtless be presented for your consideration—matter of vital and far-reaching import to Georgians, but, gentlemen, believe it or not, it is true; there will come up before your honorable body no more weighty, no more interesting, no more vital question this summer than the liquor proposition.

"Dr. Talmage once asked the Old Man Eloquent, 'Mr. Gladstone, what is the most burning question of the age?' To this Mr. Gladstone replied, 'Doctor, there is but one question, and that is Christianity.'

"Honorable sirs, the salvation of a soul is the biggest thing and the grandest work on earth; all other work must pale before it, but the solution of the whisky problem (and that means its abolition) stands next to the 'one question.' Indeed it is a part of it. The reason therefor is obvious. Gentlemen can see at a glance how the liquor traffic blights and corrupts and destroys.

"The legalized liquor traffic is largely responsible for pauperism. It is chargeable in the main not only for the country's poor houses, but it furnishes the bulk of material for the mad houses as well. It produces 90 per cent of the crimes committed in the nation and is the most prolific breeder of immorality on earth.

"The licensed saloon is the nesting place for the nihilist, the anarchist, the blasphemer, the libertine, the gambler, the housebreaker, the spoiler of character, the highway robber and the murderer.

"Lincoln said in 1855, speaking of the saloon keeper, 'Poor man, he does not seem to realize the misery, shame and wickedness he has set going, and which one day he must account for with God, who forgets nothing. If it is wrong for this person to do all these things it is wrong for the voters to make him their agent by legalizing his business to produce such results.'

"Again this great man declared in burning eloquence, 'This traffic exist; this demon of intemperance is abroad. It must be met in one of two ways, either by a united, persistent effort to abolish it, or it must be met by our furnishing in the future, as in the past, from our homes, from our Sunday schools and from our churches, not only the recruits to keep up this army of drunkards, but we must pay money, in addition to support the paupers and punish the criminals which the legalized traffic constantly pours upon us from the saloon.'

Produces Criminality.

"President Roosevelt said through McClure's some time ago, 'The liquor traffic tends to produce criminality and lawbreaking. . . . to debauch not only the body social, but the body politic also.'

"I might quote illustrious gentlemen both of ancient and modern times on this awful question ad infinitum, but enough. The word of Almighty God, reason, experience, history, conscience—all pronounce a curse on the dram shop. There is no good in the saloon, and hence no good can come out of it. But no argument is needed to prove to your minds, learned and honorable gentlemen, that the saloon is wrong and always wrong, and is the vilest blot on our civilization.

"Now, sirs, you are the representatives of a great people, the custodians of our public honor and civic righteousness. Our reputation as a great state, as well as our happiness, is resting largely in your hands. The people of Georgia are looking to you for deliverance from the rum curse—from the crime and shame and poverty which flow from the open saloons.

"A little over two millions of Georgians are living in dry territories, while only about three hundred thousand are living in the wet centers. These two classes are located in a hundred and thirteen dry counties and thirty-two wet counties in Georgia respectively, yet according to the laws on our statute books all these dry counties are helpless. They are the common dumping ground of all the vile stuff these mammon-worshiping, mocking, conscienceless saloons are pleased to dump upon them.

"Gentlemen, if there be equity it is not found here. It is neither justice nor mercy. It is cruel—it is outrageous. It has been urged by a goodly number of representative citizens upon the Anti-Saloon League of Georgia that we enter into a state prohibition fight, but in our opinion the time is not ripe to call a prohibition election this year, but as sure as the white stars shine in the heavens it is coming. Our purpose, however, for the present is the passage of an anti-treating and an anti-jug bill. The people throughout Georgia are particularly clamoring for the passage of an anti-jug bill. And God knows an anti-treating law would be a boon to the whole state. Outraged Georgians have suffered long enough. They have chafed under their burdens. They have bled at the heart. Their shame and their helplessness are pitiable. But they will no more suffer and murmur not. They will not hold their peace any longer. From the mountains to the seaboard the cries of this long suffering, sinned against people are going up to a great God for deliverance. Gentlemen, do you not hear their sobs? Will you not rush to the relief of our broken-hearted women in Georgia and save the struggling men and boys from the further shame and crime of rum?

"The anti-jug bill, as well as other temperance bills, will be up for your consideration. The people all over Georgia are waiting with great anxiety for your decision. Our social and political happiness is now in your hands. All eyes are turned toward you. Hearts are beating feverishly. Our hopes are in the balances. Which way will the scales turn? Gentlemen, don't disappoint us. Vote for the bill. Make it a law and go down in history honored, wept, loved, immortalized.

BOLL WEEVIL IS MARCHING ON GEORGIA

So Declares State Entomologist Smith in Report to Commissioner Hudson.

WARNING IS SOUNDED TO GEORGIA PLANTERS

Mr. Smith Considers It Certain That the Weevil Will Reach This State Unless Means Are Found to Stay Its Advance.

State Entomologist R. I. Smith, who has just returned from an extended trip through the states of Texas and Louisiana, where he investigated the ravages made upon cotton by the boll weevil and the methods employed for its extermination, sounds a note of warning to the cotton planters of Georgia. So certain does it seem that this pest will reach the fields of Georgia, unless some unforseen barrier presents itself, that Professor Smith urges that the legislature should make some provision, should the pest appear one hundred miles or more ahead of its natural spread, for destroying cotton over a limited area, reimbursing the planter, in part at least, for the loss.

In Louisiana the experiment is being made of exterminating the pest with paris green, the drawback being that it occasions more injury to the cotton than does the boll weevil.

Professor Smith's report to Commissioner of Agriculture Hudson is as follows:

Text of Report.

"To Hon. T. C. Hudson, Chairman Georgia State Board of Entomolgy: I have just returned from a trip through Lousiana and Texas where I have been investigating the cotton boll weevil situation, and also attended a meeting of the National Nurserymen's Association at Dallas, Texas. My first stop was at Baton Rouge where I spent a profitable two-days in the office and laboratories of the Louisiana Crop Pest commission. Professor Wilmon Newell, formerly state entomologist of Georgia, is secretary of the Louisiana Crop Pest commission and entomologist to the Louisiana experiment stations, and in that capacity he is now conducting some interesting and valuable experiments with the cotton boll weevil. One of his principal experiments is for the purpose of determining the hibernating habits of the boll weevil. This is done in large cages erected for the purpose at Keatchie, La.

These cages are the largest ever erected for experiments in entomolgical research, the cages being 64 feet long, 48 feet wide and 8 feet high, covering an area of about one-sixteenth of an acre. This large cage is subdivided into eighteen compartments, each one being filled with different materials to represent all manner of natural cover from common cotton field condition to a dense forest cover. In these cages last fall were placed over 25,000 boll weevil which were allowed to go into hibernation. This spring an accurate account has been kept of all the weevils that have emerged so that the final figures will show exactly the number of weevils that succeeded in surviving the winter.

I visited also several other places in Louisiana where the boll weevil has become numerous during the last two or three years. In one field examined I saw places where as high as 13 per cent of the cotton squares were punctured by the boll weevil. Such a high per cent at this early date means that under favorable weather conditions the boll weevil will work great injury to the cotton in those fields. The cotton growers are awake to the fact that cotton must be grown under the best cultural methods to prevent disastrous boll weevil injury.

"The Louisiana crop pest commission, under the direction of Professor Newell, is also conducting experiments with paris green for poisoning the boll weevil, and from the results already obtained there seems to be some chance that the poisoning method will be largely successful. The great drawback to the use of paris green has been that it injures the cotton, and even though it kills a great number of boll weevils, it sometimes does so much damage by killing the plants that the fields not poisoned make a better crop of cotton than the poisoned fields.

"During my visit I learned many interesting and instructive points about the boll weevil fight. When the boll weevil reaches Georgia, as it certainly will unless some unforeseen barrier presents itself, we will need to know all that is possible to know about this insect.

Nurserymen's Convention.

"After leaving Louisiana I visited Dallas, Tex., and attended the nurserymen's convention, which was well attended by nurserymen from all parts of the United States. At that meeting a committee was elected to confer with a committee from the Association of Official Horticultural Inspectors, of which I had the honor last fall of being elected a member, and these two committees hope to devise some plan by which the states will adopt more uniform legislation with regard to inspection of nurseries and shipment of nursery stock over the United States. At present there is a great difference between the laws of various stats relative to inspection and sale of nursery stock, and in some cases these laws work hardships on the deserving nurserymen. This is especially true with regard to the interstate shipment of stock.

"From Dallas Professor Newell and myself visited Calvert, College Station and Wellburn, Tex. At each of these points the cotton boll weevil has been present for at least seven years. We found that some cotton growers have gone out of business; in fact, actually lost their plantations since the boll weevil appeared, while in the same sections other growers are continuing to grow cotton and making a success of the enterprise. This is explained largely by the difference in individuals, the more shiftless not being able to cope with the boll weevil, while the best farmers, by adopting improved methods of growing cotton, are continuing to make money.

Boll Weevil Causes Cash System.

"One thing quite apparent is that the farmers are nearly all doing business on a cash basis, whereas before the advent of the boll weevil most plantations were run on a credit system. The cash basis certainly works to the advantage of the farmer, as he gets supplies now for about 25 per cent less than formerly. The boll weevil has made it impossible for cotton growers to produce the large yields which they formerly obtained and consequently renters find it hard to secure advances of money on the cotton crop. The result has been the cash system, which in the end will be of great advantage to the cotton growers.

"By talking with prominent cotton growers who are successfully fighting the boll weevi we found that the damage done by the weevil depends largely on the amount of rainfall during July and August. If an excessive amount of rain falls during those two months, the boll weevil injury will be great, while if July and August are both dry months, the boll weevil will not multiply rapidly. The true reasons for this difference would require some explanation which I will be glad to give to all who desire it.

"The present status of the boll weevil is not encouraging to the cotton growers east of Louisiana. The weevil will probably reach the Mississippi river this season, and may perhaps cross into the state of Mississippi. Hence it behooves the farmers of the southeastern states to learn as much as possible about the boll weevil and be prepared to fight it successfully when it arrives.

"The Georgia state board of entomology expects to keep in force the quarantine on cotton products that are liable to disseminate the boll weevil. We will also keep a lookout in the cotton fields of Georgia for the first appearance of the boll weevil. Should it appear one hundred or more miles ahead of its natural spread, an effort should be made to wipe out the infestation. This can only be done, however, by giving some one the power to destroy cotton over a limited area. Some means should be provided by the Georgia legislature so that cotton could be destroyed if necessary and the owners reimbursed for at least a part of the amount of loss. It is to be hoped that no such necessity will arise, but cotton growers should know that something of the kind may possibly be advisable.

"My investigations in Louisiana and Texas has forced me more strongly than before to the belief that the cotton boll weevil is an enemy that Georgia growers should study before it reaches this state.

Respectfully yours, R. I. SMITH,
"State Entomologist."

MARSH ESTATE AGAIN IN COURT

Exceptions to Report of Auditor Were Filed Yesterday.

Exceptions of law and of fact to the report of the auditor, S. N. Evins, in the case of hCarles W. Crankshaw et al., pending in the superior court, were filed yesterday by Mrs. Adelaide L. Adair and Spencer S. Marsh, two of the heirs of the Marsh estate and intervenors in the case. The receiver, J. H. Nunnally, also filed exceptions of law and of fact to the auditor's report.

The exceptions filed yesterday set forth the minute particulars of Mr. St. Amand's alleged maladministration of the affairs of the estate, the main specification being the allegation that he had squandered some $150,000 of the estate's money, which he had received and disbursed upon checks signed individually. It is charged that Mr. St. Amand's administration of affairs damaged the value of the estate at least $100,000.

Judge Pendleton recently ordered the auditor to make a supplemental report by September 3 upon the matters complained of by Mrs. Adair and Spencer S. Marsh.

Rosser & Brandon and John L. Hopkins & Sons represent the parties who filed the exceptions.

The Brown-Ketcham Company, of Indianapolis, Indiana, filed a suit in the superior court yesterday against the William Bensel Construction Company, of Atlanta, and H. M. Atkinson and Gordon Abbott, as trustees, for the recovery of a balance of $1,935.29 alleged to be due them for the structural and ornamental steel work in the electric and gas building at the northwest corner of Marietta and Fairlie streets.

Petitioners allege that they contracted to do the work specified for $119,154.45, of which sum they have been paid all but the balance stated above.

Mrs. Kate Rackley and her husband, J. H. Rackley, brought suits yesterday for damages in the amounts of $10,000 and $5,000, respectively, against R. A. Broyles, alleging that on December 20, last, a delivery wagon of Broyles ran Mrs. Rackley down on Mitchell street, the horse trampling her down and falling upon her, she being rescued from death by bystanders, but sustaining serious injuries, a number of her ribs being broken and caved in. J. D. Kilpatrick represents the petitioners.

EXPERTS TALK ON SOCIOLOGY

Fifth Annual Session of State Sociological Society Opens.

Ministers of Atlanta Are Urged to Attend the Meetings Today to Hear Two Papers Read on Very Important Subjects.

The fifth annual meeting of the Georgia State Sociological Society opened in Atlanta yesterday, the first three sessions taking place at the Carnegie library. A representative audience was present at each session and the various papers raed were interesting and instructive.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dr. E. C. Thrash, who invited Dr. Millard to open the meeting with prayer.

The paper of the morning eliciting enthusiastic interest was that of Rev. A. J. McKelway, who discussed the relation of compulsory education to child labor, and the necessity of legislation in that direction. He referred to the prosperous condition that exist where the right legislation governs such matters, and his paper showed research, and scientific investigation along those line.

The address of the president, Dr. E. C. Thrash, was on the subject: "The Weak and the Strong." In part he said:

"There is a symmetry in the theory of Darwin and his confreres as applied to natural development that, when studied properly, is true and beautiful. The organic world is so evenly balanced by the struggles and counter struggles which are being carried on by nature, that an equipoise is produced that is nothing short of divine. This struggle allows every living being to thrive and prosper until it reaches a certain limit, when it is checkmated by some stronger being or combination of forces. Nothing in nature has a monopoly. Everything, from the minutest bacteria to the mightiest animal, is subservient to each other; and they all limit one another to certain bounds. To illustrate: When the hawks wax fat from a multiplicity of birds they become so numerous that they destroy too many birds and die for the lack of them; then, when the number of birds is diminished the enemy of the larvae and insects are weakened and these thrive, but from them vegetation will suffer until they are checked by powers to which they are subservient, etc. These conditions, however, apply only to virgin nature.

"Just as these struggles and counter struggles exist here, just so in higher forms of life are other forces and counter forces acting against this very law to a degree that renders it of little value. The most important of these forces have been considered with entirely too much indifference by those who have confined themselves, in the study of the laws of creation, too colsely to the simpler organic forms. They have been broad and deep, and resourceful, as applied to physical life; yet with all this strength they were too prone to see only physical force, seeing which alone they could not reach out as broad as eternity, as high as God, as deep as hell. Of all the forces considered by thinkers of this class, the psychic, which is most important, and about which we are most concerned, is overlooked.

"While all organic forms are subservient to and dependent upon each other, they are all dominated by mind. When this magic power, which has such eminent domain over matter, is mentioned, it opens up a field so expansive, so beautiful, so enchanting, so incomprehensible, that all physical laws become secondary. Barring this characteristic from the study of life, and viewing it only from the standpoint of nature, every individual and every species, is struggling for its own survival, in both the animal and vegetable kingdoms, regardless of the existence of others. Each species of plant life has a good method of dissemination and self-preservation and special devices to protect itself from enemies, the weak always yielding to the strong. The mightiest trees of the forest send their ramifying roots to extract all the nutrition from the soil, and spread their lengthy branches to absorb and shut out the rain and sunshine, leaving the weaker plants to wilt and die from starvation, and to become food for the stronger. This characteristic also manifests itself throughout all animal life, until we reach that point where action becomes dominated by intellect.

Afternoon and Evening.

The afternoon session convened at half-past two o'clock, the opening paper a brilliant effort by L. C. Hopkins, on the subject, "Single Tax." J. C. Logan, secretary of the Atlanta Associated Charities, followed with an able, convincing paper dealing with the advantages of municipal ownership.

Hon. W. B. Merritt, state school commissioner, made an interesting address at the evening session on the subject of "Compulsory Education," embodying in his paper the bill asking for legislation in this direction at the forthcoming meeting of the Georgia legislature.

Doctor W. B. Parks, of Atlanta, made a report as chairman of the state committee on alcoholism and publication.

At the afternoon session Rev. C. B. Wilmer was appointed to communicate with the ministers of the city, urging their attendance at the meeting this morning when two most important papers will be read, the one "Why Ministers Should Take an Interest in Sociology," by Rev. C. A. Langston; the other, "The Kingdom of Heaven as a Social System," by William Hurd Hillyer

Today's Programme.

AUCTION SALE WAS SUCCESS

Valuable Real Estate Sold By S. B. Turman & Co.

At the big auction sale of S. B. Turman & Co., the well known real estate firm, held yesterday, the sum of $20,720 was realized. A large crowd of representative Atlanta citizens was present.

The property sold was part of the McLeod homestead, and it consisted of a large number of beautiful lots on South Boulevard, Ormewood, McLeod and Confederate avenues. The bidding was spirited from start to finish and everybody present was delighted with the result of the sale. All the purchasers of lots were pleased, and as usual on such occasions, several lots changed hands before the sale was over at advanced prices over the figures at which the lots were purchased.

Colonel J. W. Ferguson, the auctioneer, handled the big crowd in his usual happy style.

S. B. Turman & Co. has been quite successful in handling auction sales. They make this a special department of their real estate business and the department is under the management of Jas. L. Logan, who has made this work a study for a number of years. With a reputation for the most reputable dealings and handling a very extensive business, this firm stands in the front rank of real estate agents in the south.

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE.

Great Institution for Education of Girls.

The recent commencement brought to a close the most successful session in the history of this institution. The enrollment was 303 from fourteen states; the health record remains unsurpassed, while the work done was most gratifying.

Two features of the commencement were of unusual interest. First, that inasmuch as Agnes Scott has the curriculum, faculty, standard and equipment of a real college, the name has been changed by charter amendment from Agnes Scott Institute to Agnes Scott College. Second, the conferring of the B. A. degree for the first time. Although the standard of Agnes Scott has for several years been higher than that of many institutions which have been conferring this degree, yet it has declined to do so until, in the opinion of its faculty, board and other most competent judges, it had obtained the rank of a real college and could confer a B. A. degree of recognized value.

NEW WAY TO GET NEGRO WORKMEN

Railroad Agent Offers Good Jobs to Police Court Vagrants.

A railroad agent who is in the city seeking labor for a company that is grading has hit upon a new plan to get negroes to work.

Yesterday morning J. D. Amerson, representing the A. & C. Wright Company, which is grading on the Tallulah Falls railroad, appeared in the police court to hear the trials of a number of negroes who were charged with vagrancy.

Whenever it was proven that a negro was not working anywhere, Mr. Amerson arose and said:

"If your honor, please, I can give that negro a good job. We are willing to pay $1.50 a day for good labor and $1.25 a day for labor not quite so good. It is work on railroad grading."

The recorder turned to the convicted prisoner and asked:

"Do you want to accept that job?"

If the negro accepted it, he was allowed to go, but if he refused, then the recorder would know that he didn't want to work and would bind him over for vagrancy.

Mr. Amerson's plan works not only well for his company, but is a new and effectual way of solving the vagrancy question.

TERMINAL CO. TO INTRODUCE CHECK SYSTEM

Duplicate Check Is Given to the Person Who Presents Baggage.

W. C. WILSON MADE MANAGER OF BAGGAGE AND CAB CO.

He Will Assume His New Duties Sunday—The New System Is Said to Be Practical and Will Do Away With All Favoritism.

It was stated yesterday on good authority that the check system for the transferring of baggage such as is now in vogue in the largest cities of the country will soon be given a trial in Atlanta by the Atlanta Terminal Company. Chairman Wickershaw, being out of the city, the report could not be officially confirmed.

W. C. WILSON,
New Manager of Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company.

This means that all transfer companies and all private citizens will now be given equal opportunity to check their baggage and that the monopoly now enjoyed by the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company will come to an end.

By this check system now used in other large cities, for every trunk or piece of baggage delivered to the terminal station duplicate checks will be given to the driver or whoever presents the baggage at the time it is received. This means the driver of any transfer company or any private carriage or public dray. This duplicate check will then be demanded by the baggage officials before the baggage is given over or rechecked to its railroad destination. In other cities this system has proved practical and has done away with any suggestion of favoritism, and is exactly what has been advocated editorially by The Constitution for a long time. Only one matter must be carefully regarded when this new system is put in action, and that is the duplicate check must be secured by the owner of the baggage and presented. In other words, if the duplicate check is turned over to a driver, the driver must see to it that the duplicate check is placed in the hands of the owner of the trunk or baggage before the owner attempts to claim it and check it to its desination.

This system is generally advocated by baggage officials and eliminates all chances of lost or stolen baggage so long as the rules are strictly complied with.

Wilson Made General Manager.

W. C. Wilson, superintendent of telegraph and signals of the Atlanta Terminal station, was yesterday elected vice president and general manager of the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company and will assume his new duties Sunday. Mr. Wilson, while only 33 years old, has enjoyed an exceptionally wide experience and not only has a host of friends and admirers, but is accounted a railroad man of marked ability. Mr. Wilson will assume the management of the baggage company and will be solely responsible.

It is also understood that a city office of the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company will soon be centrally located and with a sufficient force of men to facilitate the transferring of all baggage under the direction of General Manager Wilson.

While Mr. Wilson has been considered as the right man for the right place, his election by the board did not result until yesterday. Mr. Wilson is intimately acquainted with the workings of every department of the Terminal station, and while he stated yesterday his reluctance to leave, the salary offered was an inducement such as left him no alternative.

Mr. Wilson began his career in the railroad world as a telegraph operator for the Atlantic Coast Line, and during the seven years he was connected with this road, was train dispatcher and manager of many telegraph offices. In 1895 he came to Atlanta from the general freight agent's office of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, and entered the freight department of the Western and Atlantic. Afterward he went to the union depot, where he was chief operator, leaving that position to accept the position of superintendent of telegraph and signals of the Atlanta Terminal Company, and personally supervised the installation of the present plant and its operation. Since accepting this position he has acted as assistant stationmaster and also stationmaster, assuming the duties of Stationmaster Patterson during his recent absence. In all of these positions Mr. Wilson has given eminent satisfaction and proved his ability as an executive and in the handling of men.

Mr. Wilson has lately been studying the transfer systems used in other large cities and will assume his new position with the purpose of installing the latest and most modern methods which have proven practical elsewhere.

HAD TO KISS DARKTOWN MARY TO ESCAPE DEATH FROM RAZOR

ONE of the liveliest sensations that ever caused a stir on Decatur street occurred Monday evening when Mary Mollinax, a belle of Darktown, used a razor to make a number of married Darktown women jealous.

The story is a very remarkable one and could only have happened on Decatur street with a Darktown belle as its heroine. Darktown evokes some very curious things which culminate on Decatur street where the red liquor and the foaming beer flow.

About a week ago several married women in Darktown had Mary Mollinax arrested for attempting to alienate their husbands' affections. Mary served seven days in the city prison and she vowed revenge, but how to get it was a problem.

Monday evening Mary hit upon a plan. She secured a white-handled razor and took her stand on Decatur street along where the red liquor and the foaming beer flow the freest. She waited patiently until she saw one of the husbands of one of the Darktown women who had had her arrested. Then she whipped the white handled razor from her stocking and made for the husband. She rushed upon him and exclaimed:

"Ef yer doan kiss me I'se gwine ter slash yer face wid dis razzer."

There was fire in her white eyes and determination in her voice and a glitter on the razor. The husband obeyed.

This razor-kissing act was repeated a half-dozen times with as many Darktown husbands.

"Oh, I'se gwine ter make dem ole niggers in Darktown jealous," she cried out, "fer dey sho am gwine ter git mad when dey knows dat dey ole hosban's done kiss me."

A policeman interfered and locked Mary Mollinax up. She was arraigned in the recorder's court yesterday morning, where she made a full confession, saying:

"Hit wus jes' er leetle plan ob mine, Jedge Briles, ter git eben wid dem niggers."

Recorder Broyles fined her $15.75, which meant thirty days in the city prison.

THEATERS.

At the Casino.

THE return to vaudeville this week at the Casino is meeting with great success at the popular summer theater. The bill is one of the very best of the season, containing many novelties and several feature acts that would be prominent in any vaudeville bill in the country.

Of course, interest centers in the appearance of Mme. Terese Renz, who is recognized as the most skillful equestrienne of Europe. Many Atlantans saw this act at the New York hippodrome and were prepared to see something out of the ordinary, but those who have not been so fortunate are simply carried away by the splendor of this act. Imagine two snow-white horses who are put through the most difficult stunts on the stage and a graceful woman who sits the saddle as if she was part of the strappings. These beautiful animals do everything from the high school steps to jumping the rope. The act cannot be described but must be seen to be appreciated. It created a veritable furore last night and received tumultuous applause.

The Brothers Meers are great in their line of balancing and tight wire walking. For twenty minutes this clever pair keep the audience thoroughly entertained.

Waterbury Brothers and Tenny have a musical act that is certainly the headliner of all the musical acts ever seen in Atlanta. In addition to giving good music, original comedy is introduced that keeps the crowd howling with laughter.

Leroy and Woodford contribute their share to the enjoyment of the performance. The cameragraph and the Chadwick Trio complete one of the most interesting and up-to-date vaudeville shows of the season and one that should pack the Casino to its capacity all the week.

SOCIETY

Thorn-Knox.

THE marriage of Miss Anne Mae Thorn and Mr. John D. Knox took place last evening at half after 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Charlton Thorn, Rev. J. W. Lee performing the ceremony.

The attendants included Mr. Garnet Wolseley Hardin, of Shreveport, La., best man; Miss Grace Thorn, maid of honor; Mrs. Lucius J. Harris, Jr., matron of honor; bridesmaids, Misses Hazel Adkins, Josie Lee Williford, Zulu Adkins, Floy Felkes, of Monroe, and Willie Russel Law. After the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large assemblage of friends, there was an informal reception, and an elegant buffet supper was served, after which the bride and groom left for a visit east.

The bride's gown was one of elegance and exquisite taste. The material was of white crepe de chine trimmed in duchesse and rose point lace. The skirt, en train, was paneled in the lace and the corsage had a yoke and full sleeves of it. Her wedding veil was adjusted with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley, her only ornament being the groom's gift, a harvest moon of diamonds.

The maid of honor wore a princesse gown in pale green chiffon cloth trimmed in princesse lace, and carried a bouquet of bridesmaid2 roses tied with green tulle.

The bridesmaids wore white chiffon cloth and lace, with girdle and gloves of pale green. In the hair they wore half wreathes of white roses, and carried bouquets of white carnations tied with green tulle. The mother of the bride wore a handsome toilet in pale gray crepe de chine trimmed in rose point lace, and the groom's mother wore white Louisine silk with duchesse lace trimming.

The decorations throughout the house expressed the most artistic taste. In the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, there was an improvised altar of palms and ferns banked high and studded here and there with clusters of white flowers. The mantels and cabinets were banked with ferns and white flowers, and the same decorative scheme prevailed throughout the house. In the dining room, where the bridal party were served, the table had artistic decorations. The centerpiece was a heart-shaped cake set on a plateau of roses bordered with ferns. About it crystal candlesticks were placed at intervals and had their shades of white and green. The ices and bonbons were heart-shaped and in white and green, and the place cards were dainty creations bearing the monograms of the bride and groom in silver letters. The bride's gifts to her attendants were gold signet rings. Wurms' orchestra furnished a brilliant musical programme during the evening and a hundred guests were delightfully entertained.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Thorn and a young woman of piquante beauty, bright mentality and lovable disposition and nature. She is a great social favorite and the fact that she will reside hereafter in Shreveport is a source of sincere regret to a large circle of friends.

Mr. Knox is widely known in his native state and is achieving marked success in the business world. He has many friends wherever he is known and is highly respected and esteemed.

Read-Kiser.

THE wedding of Miss Mary Read and Mr. John Kiser will take place tonight at the All Saints church, Rev. Z. B. Farland to officiate. The attendants will be: Best man, Mr. W. H. Kiser; maid of honor, Miss Florence Hobbs; bridesmaids, Miss Emma Robinson, Miss Janie Speer, Miss Janie Thornton, Miss Marion Peel; groomsmen, Mr. Irvin Dickey, Mr. W. R. Parkhurst, Mr. Gordon Kiser, Mr. Frank Orme; ushers, Colonel W. L. Peel, Dr. Elkin, Dr. Dunbar Roy, Mr. J. G. Hollenbeck, Dr. H. F. Harris, Mr. Albert Howell.

After the church ceremony there will be a reception at the home of the bride's parents, when the bridal party and the intimate friends of the two families will be entertained.

Henderson-Powell.

THE wedding of Miss Florence Lucile Henderson and Mr. Hiram Perry Powell will take place this evening at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. C. P. A. Pise to perform the ceremony in the Episcopal cathedral.

The best man will be Mr. Malcolm Gayle Ramsey, of Birmingham, Ala.; the maid of honor will be Miss Carrie Henderson; the bridesmaids, Miss Hattie Lee Smith and Miss Alice May Ozborne; groomsmen, Mr. Ralph Bouligny, Mr. Carl McCamy, Mr. Auguste Paul Tripod and Mr. Langston McCalley.

After the ceremony the bridal party will be entertained at the residence of the bride's parents.

Selig-Simon.

THE wedding of Miss Corinne Selig and Mr. Julius Simon will take place this evening at 8 o'clock at the Standard Club on Washington street. Rabbi Marx will perform the ceremony, after which 200 guests will be entertained at a reception.

Mr. Louis Steinau will be best man; Miss Elfie Selig, maid of honor; Mrs. Sidney Winter, of Montgomery, matron of honor, and Mr. Simon Selig, master of ceremonies.

Curtis-Patterson.

A PRETTY wedding last night was that of Miss Bertha Curtis and Mr. Marion Elmo Patterson, which took place at the bride's home on North Jackson street.

The house was summer-like in its decorations of foliage and white flowers and the green and white combination prevailed in all the color details of the wedding, including the delicious refreshments.

The six bridesmaids, Misses Alma Curtis, Florence Thompson, Mary Low Smith, Frances Parks, Cassie Duffy and Gladys Reid, wore dainty lingerie dresses with green girdles, and they carried showers of asparagus fern and white ribbons, which formed an aisle from the stairs to the drawing room for the entrance of the bride, with her father, Mr. J. A. Curtis. They were preceded by Master Curtis Harold Everett, ring bearer, and the bridegroom was accompanied by his best man, Mr. E. Morris. Dr. A. T. Spalding performed the ceremony.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left the city for a bridal trip, and on their return they will be at home at 42 East Baker street.

The bride is a notably pretty young woman of a winsome brunette type, and she is a violinist of recognized ability. Mr. Patterson is successfully known in the business world and he has a large social acquaintance to congratulate him.

Archbishop Blenk.

DR. R. D. SPALDING will entertain at dinner on Thursday evening in compliment to Archbishop Blenk, of New Orleans, who was formerly bishop of Porto Rico.

This distinguished dignitary is on his way to the scene of his new prelacy and he will be the guest for several days of the Marist Fathers, of whose society he is a member.

Home for Friendless.

THE association of the Home for the Friendless will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Carnegie library.

Wooden Wedding.

AN event of sentimental and picturesque interest last night was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wingo to celebrate their wooden wedding.

Their pretty home on Georgia avenue was made festive throughout with daisies, and a delicious salad course and ices were enjoyed. On the veranda, which was lighted with lanterns, punch was served from an old-fashioned well with an old oaken bucket and gourds. In the library souvenir hearts in burnt wood were presented the guests by Mrs. William H. Heston, and there were groups of ladies in the various reception rooms who assisted in entertaining.

Receiving in the drawing room with Mr. and Mrs. Wingo were Miss Wingo and Mrs. W. H. Dodson. Miss Louise Sullivan and Miss Letitia Green assisted in the hall and Miss Hazel Vorus and Mrs. Ida Leach in the living room.

Mrs. Wingo was a charming bride in a white chiffon gown elaborate with lace and Miss Wingo wore a gray crepe de chine. The other ladies receiving wore dainty lingerie dresses.

The wedding march was played by Mr. I. M. Meyer, and a delightful feature of the evening was an informal talk by Miss S. E. Hanna on "Weddings, Wooden and Otherwise," which was followed by a bright response from Mr. Harry Etheridge.

One hundred guests enjoyed the hospitality of the occasion and extended congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wingo, who are both well liked and have devoted friends. Mrs. Wingo is a great-granddaughter of Edwin Payne, a pioneer citizen of Atlanta, and her family has been prominently associated always with the city's best interests. Mr. Wingo is from South Carolina, where is connected with the Logans and Jacksons, an he is admirably known also in Atlanta.

Spend the Day Party.

THE old Atlanta W. C. T. U. will celebrate their twenty-sixth anniversary Thursday, June 28, by having a spend-the-day party and basket dinner at the home of Miss Missouri Stokes, Decatur, Ga. Every member of the union is expected to be present and all friends who wish to participate are cordially invited. A program of music and recitations will be rendered in the afternoon, with report of year's work and election of officers. Take 9 o'clock car for Decatur.

Mission Reception.

THE ladies of the Home Mission Society of St. John church will give a reception to the pastor and wife next Thursday evening, June 28, from 8 to 11 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Crim, 456 Washington street.

All members of the church are earnestly requested to be present.

Mrs. Burger to Lecture.

UNDER the auspices of the old Atlanta W. C. T. U., Mrs. Nelle G. Burger, of Clark, Mo., will lecture in Dr. Broughton's Tabernacle Sunday, July 1, at 3 o'clock; also in the First Methodist church at 7:30 July 1. Mrs. Burger was a former resident of Atlanta and she hopes to meet all her old friends. She comes highly indorsed by the clergy and is one of the most splendid representatives of the national W. C. T. U. on the American platform. The public is cordially invited to hear her.

Lawn Fete Tonight.

THE al fresco fete on the lawn of the Sacred Heart church this afternoon and evening will be a bright occasion with a programme which will amuse young and old alike.

There will be a presentation of "Mrs. Wiggs in the Cabbage Patch," with Miss Lillie Peeples impersonating "Mrs. Wiggs." The cabbages will be sold at a reasonable price and one of them will contain a handsome prize. There will be games all the afternoon for the children and dainty refreshments served afternoon and evening. A brilliant musical programme has been arranged by Dr. J. Lewis Browne to delight the guests in the evening.

Buffet Supper.

A HAPPY occasion was the buffet supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Northen entertained last evening in compliment to Mrs. Mary A. Oliver and Mr. Edward Northen, their marriage to take place Thursday evening.

The hospitable home was beautifully decorated with roses and ferns and the menu served was delicious. An informal musical programme added to the pleasure of the evening.

To Miss Parker.

MISS ELIZABETH OSBORNE entertained delightfully at cards yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Ruth Parker, of Macon, and the game was followed by a delicious luncheon. Sweet peas in pink and white formed the decorations, and the party was in all respects a pretty one.

Miss Osborne was an attractive hostess in white and pink ribbons, and Miss Parker's dainty white mull gown was worn over blue silk.

The prizes were a fan, a hat pin, and a set of shortwaist pins.

BIGGER WAGES WILL BE PAID

25,000 Rhode Island Cotton Mill Operatives Will Be Affected.

Providence, R. I., June 26.—An increase in wages which will affect a majority of the cotton mill operatives in Rhode Island will be announced July 9, according to a statement made today by Colonel Robert Knight Goddard, who is at the head of the extensive Goddard mills. Colonel Goddard could not say today what the Rhode Island advance would be. There are about twenty-five thousand cotton mill employees in this state, three-fifths of whom work in the mills controlled by the Goddard corporation.

CHARTIER SHORTHAND CLAIMS ARE EXPOSED

The Southern Shorthand and Business University Runs Bluff Claims to the Ground.

The managers of the Southern Shorthand and Business University are glad to see that the Chartier shorthand representatives have consented to accept their offers, but they are very particular to accept the first proposition upon certain conditions, namely, that the dictation be upon practice matter.

The Fake Exposed.

"This is just the point we wanted to bring out from them," said the proprietors of the Southern. "We wanted the public to see exactly what they were claiming. What school could not take some simple letter or letters, largely composed of words, signs for which are taught to the pupils during the first few days at school, and by writing them over and over attain a speed of one hundred words per minute. We submit that that manner of teaching is in violation of all rules of pedagogy and of common sense. It would be as unreasonable as if a teacher of a young child who had not known his letters should select some passage from the Fourth reader and cause him to learn the same parrot-like, but where would be the advantage?

"We also submit that such a manner of teaching partakes of the form of fakism. An intelligent public cannot be fooled by such methods. The quick-easy system agents know that they have not a single pupil in school now after more than three weeks' study who, without any previous knowledge of shorthand, can write fifty words per minute of unfamiliar matter.

"So far as the acceptance of the other propositions, we are prepared to take the matter up with them at any time.

Discarded the System.

"Because of its failure to fulfill the claims made for it, the following schools have already discarded the Chartier system: Boyle's College, Omaha, Neb.; St. Joseph Business University, St. Joseph, Mo.; State Business College, Minneapolis, Minn.; Brown's Business College, Kansas City. The last named college says: 'My teachers did not take kindly to it. I am positive it would not do to develop court stenographers. It has not the foundation for high up work.'

Can't Hold First-Class Positions.

"Professor G. W. Hill, principal Queen City Business College, Dallas, Texas, says: 'The Chartier system was adopted by a business college of this city about a year ago, and to my certain knowledge not a single pupil has become competent to hold a first-class position with that system.'

"One of our students opened a school in Paris, Texas, and absolutely caused Mr. Chartier to close out with only three students."

So-Called Shorthand.

Professor J. T. Wilson, of the Paris, Texas, Commercial College, says: "I have watched this system of so-called shorthand from its birth, and I have observed that bright young men and women who took up this system after studying it closely for months have given it up in disgust, and I do not know of a single one who can write it at the rate of 75 words per minute, although they have studied and practiced it seven or eight months on a 'dead stretch.'

"Soon after Mr. Chartier opened here with his 'revelation of shorthand' he jumped into the Pitmanic system, whereupon I jumped into his alleged shorthand, and in less than six months' time I saw him 'shut up shop' and move on."

Come around to the Southern and we will show you the absurdities of this nonsensical shorthand.

MINERS ADJOURN TO JULY 3.

Birmingham, Ala., June 26.—At a conference among the coal mine operators, members of the Commerical Coal Operators' Assoriation today with regard to renewing the old wage scale with the union miners, which expires July 1, a disagreement arose and the meeting adjourned until July 3.

As a consequence the joint conference between the commerical miners and operators scheduled for tomorrow will not take place. Three mines which employ union labor have signed up the contract with miners. The nature of the disagreement among the commercial operators cannot be ascertained.

SISZ WINS DAY'S RACING.

Frenchman Takes First Honor at the Paris Auto Meet.

Paris, June 26.—The automobile contest for the grand prize over the Sarthe circuit was started at 6 o'clock this morning. A very large crowd of people was present and great enthusiasm was manifested. The course, which is 103 kilometers long, was patrolled by troops. Sisz, of France, led during the third circuit, steadily increased his lead and won the day's racing in 5 hours 45 minutes and 30 2-5 seconds. Clement, of France, was second in 6 hours, 10 minutes and 40 seconds.

Baros, of France, covered the first round in 52 minutes and 25 seconds, at the rate of 118 kilometers per hour. Duay, of France, was second in 52 minutes, 32 seconds. The races will start again at 6 a. m. tomorrow.

In a game soused with hard hitting, and with long hits poking out at the edges, the Firecrackers downed Montgomery yesterday afternoon at Piedmont, score 7 to 4.

It was the first game the locals have played before an Atlanta crowd in some time, having been hampered with a road trip recently. It was with soulful satisfaction that Billy stowed the battle away.

The feature of the afternoon's fray was the presentation of a locket to "Whitey" Morse by the Atlanta team. The locket was for Whitey's baby girl.

Things looked kinder pale around the gills for the locals when Montgomery captured a trio of tallies in the fourth. Smith was saved by Mr. R. Hale, slabster for the visitors, in the same round. Hale pulled off an aerial trip that would have made Count de la Vaulx turn green with envy, and the locals tied the score.

In Montgomery's half of the fourth Schwartz hit safe. Apperious tried bunting for a bit, but finally fanned. Mullaney hit a grounder to first and out, Schwarz to second. McCann shoved a triple into deep center, and Schwartz romped in. Then Perry pulled off a stunt that wasn't on the menu, by smacking a homer over the fence which surrounds Crozier's territory.

Locals Tie the Score.

The local's fourth saw a tied score. Winters singled. S. Smith hit to third too hot to handle. "Papa" Morse sacrificed, advancing the runners. Jim Fox squeezed the ball into the right field corner for a pair of bags, and Winters and S. Smith scored. Jordan doubled and Fox came in. And the score assumed the appearance of a neatly knotted shoe lace.

In the fifth, the very next inning, the locals took charge of the lead. After two men had gone out, Winters singled, and so did Sid Smith. Winters came home on Sid's single, the latter going to second on the throw in. Morse drove one to center for a safety, and Apperious let the ball get by him. Smith scored and Morse went to second.

In the sixth inning Manager Smith was dead-headed, and went to second on Archer's sacrifice. Hughes was hit by Breitenstein, who relieved Hale in the latter part of the fifth. Crozier hit to third and Hughes was forced at second. B. Smith going to third. Crozier stole second. Winters singled, and Smith and Crozier counted.

In the seventh Montgomery added a run to her scanty stock, Perry and Hausen singling. Breitenstein hit to second, and Hausen was forced there, while Perry scored.

A double-header will be offered this afternoon for the benefit of the bargain hunters. The first game will start at 2:30. Malarkey and Maxwell will probably face Zeller and Harley.

Little Rock, Ark., June 26.—Both Phillips and Newlin pitched good ball today, but New Orleans had the better of the argument, and kept the four hits made by the locals scattered and Little Rock was again shut out.

Evils Resulting From Constipation

How This Trouble May Be Readily Corrected

You are drowsy, heavy, loggy, lack energy—every exertion is an effort—your head is not clear and it is hard to think; you have a full and oppressed feeling on your stomach and bowels—all your limbs and body ache—in fact, life seems hardly worth living under such conditions. Ask yourself, "Do your bowels move regularly?" If you feel as above, your answer will be "NO"—that is the cause of your troubles. If not properly corrected this condition will lead to much more serious disorders of the blood and body, due to the poisons in the waste matter which should be promptly carried off. And it seems so foolish to suffer when Nature has provided her own wholesome and certain remedy in the pure Mineral Laxative Water—HUNYADI JANOS—from the famous Springs in Hungary. One-half tumblerful of this wonderful water drunk on arising in the morning (slightly warmed for best results) will give you within an hour a delightfully pleasant and copious movement. This will clear your head, sharpen your appetite and make a new man of you. Try it and see. At all druggists.

Would Dictate to Factories.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 26.—A resolution to prohibit factorias from using other than union made material in the finished products was introduced at the convention of International Boot and Shoe Workers' Union today.

President Tobin warned the delegates that such legislation would work much harm to the union, asserting that the great majority of the western factories would relinquish the stamp rather than submit to such dictation. A warm fight is expected before the matter is decided.

Differences Settled.

Bay City, June 26.—The differences which have existed between the coal operators and miners of the Michigan district since March 31 last, were settled this afternoon at a joint conference. The scale of 1903 carrying an advance of 5.55 per cent was adopted.

MORAN LOSES TO WALTHOUR

Chelsea Milkman Made Atlanta Champion Ride His Best

Jimmy Had Bad Fall in the Last Heat, but After Repairing His Wheel, Gamely Mounted and Rode It Out.

Bobby Walthour made it two straight heats last night from Jimmy Moran, at Jack Prince's Coliseum, and barring a bad fall which fell to the lot of Moran, the race was undoubtedly the tidiest of this season's programme.

Bobby Walthour, after fighting Moran for 2 miles on the banks, finally succeeded in beating the visitor out by a quarter of a lap. The two riders were fairly flying after the first mile, and as the time will show, both men were ready to stop at the end of the heat. The time for the first heat was 7:48.

In the second heat the going was even prettier than in the first. Time and again did one rider gain the drop on the other only to be caught up with. After the third mile Walthour began to gain slowly, but surely. The riders entered on the fourth mile, and were finishing the first lap of the fifth mile, when Moran fell from the lower bank to the bottom of the saucer. Moran was badly skinned, having his lip and his arms and legs lacerated. He professed a willingness to stay in the game, however, and the race was started again as soon as a new front wheel was installed on Moran's bike frame. Moran stated that a slow puncture was the cause of his fall. He said he knew his wheel was punctured but didn't care to stop. Walthour was close on Moran's rear wheel at the time of the fall and it was only the headwork of Gus Lawson and B. Walthour that saved them.

Instead of starting the race where it was left off Walthour asked that the race be started evenly, since his opponent was handicapped by bruises. Walthour won the concluding heat by about 10 yards, in the time of 7:54.

Speaking of the races tonight between himself and Jimmy Moran, Bobby Walthour said: "Well, I'm sorry to say it, but I guess this will be my last appearance before this dear old Atlanta public, unless I make up my mind to ride here this fall. I sail for Europe, next Tuesday or Thursday."

The race tonight between Walthour and Moran promises to be the hottest one of many a day, for the two riders are equally anxious to pocket the last race.

Atlanta vs. Montgomery
JUNE 27. DOUBLE HEADER TODAY
FIRST GAME CALLED AT 2:30 P. M.

BABY CARRIAGE GIVEN MORSE DURING THE BASEBALL GAME

When "Whitey" More came to the bat for the first time yesterday afternoon, during the Atlanta-Montgomery game, a unique procession started from the gate near the grand stand, toward the plate.

"Whitey" saw the sight as soon as any of them, and this is what he saw: Dick Crozier being rolled out toward the plate in a baby carriage, with Jim Fox at the wheel. Jim and Dick made a cute couple.

The procession was continued 'till it reached the plate, where "Dick" Crozier, attired in a tidy little babe's cap, made a sort of a presentation speech to Morse, handing a gold heart locket and chain, with Morse's little girl's name inscribed thereon. The carriage was also presented to Morse, and Whitey blushingly wheeled the infant toter back to the bench and resumed his place at the bat.

"Popper" Morse expressed his thanks to the team in the dressing room, but he warned them that "if you ever get me up in the air like that I'm going to jump to the "Strawberry League."

Captain Wynne Dismissed.

Washington, June 26.—The courtmartial which recently tried Captain R. F. Wynne, United States marine corps, on charges of insubordination, has found him guilty and recommended his dismissal from the service. The case was put in the hands of the president today, and he approved the recommendation of the navy department. Captain Wynne's resignation will be called for immediately.

HALIFAX BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Goes Seven Furlongs on Circular Track in 1:24 4-5.

New York, June 26.—Alex Shield's Hallifax, carrying 119 pounds, made a new world's record for seven furlongs on a circular track this afternoon, when she won the Swift stakes at Sheepshead Bay. He was quoted at 7 to 1 in the betting and stepped the distance in 1:24 4-5, which is one-fifth of a second faster than the Musketee's time, made at Saratoga in 1902, and Aeronaut's time, made this year at Belmonut Park. The Swift stakes only brought three starters, with Brookdale Nympt as favorite at 6 to 5, and Ormondale next in demand at 13 to 10, after being down from 2 to 1, while Hallifax was the outsider.

Prince Hamburg, in winning the first race, equalled the world's record for six furlongs and a half, 1:18 2-5, held by Mineola and Mortinmas. Red River won the Zephyr stakes. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs and a half: Prince Hamburg, 126 (Martin), 9 to 10, won; Sir Lynnewood, 103 (Knapp), 20 to 1, second; Cinna, 92 (Miller), 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:18 2-5. Aaronaut, Nannie Hodge, Monet and Bohemia ran.

SECOND RACE—Selling, mile: Rye, 98 (Miller), 2 to 5, won; Water Tank, 98 (Notter), 12 to 1, second; Klingsorfi 103 (Knapp), 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:39 1-5. Blennenworth, Abdell, Our Sister, Flimnap, Uncle Charley and Sir Russell ran.

THIRD RACE—Zephyr stakes, 5 1-2 furlongs: Red River, 115 (Miller), 4 to 1, won; Sewell, 115 (Sewell), 6 to 1, second; Bat Masterton, 112 (Shaw), 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:06 4-5. Golden Shore, Rosemont, General Sherman, Hard Shot, Philander and Penarris ran.

FOURTH RACE—Swift stakes, 7 furlongs: Hallifax, 119 (Shaw), 7 to 1, won; Ormondale, 126 (Miller), 13 to 10, second; Brookdale Nymph, 111 (Radtke), 6 to 5 ,third. Time, 1:24 4-5. Three starters.

FIFTH RACE—Mile, selling: Fancy Bird, 96 (Miller), 8 to 1, won; Stimulant, 113 (Shaw), 16 to 5, second; Mary Morris, 96 (Notter), 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:40 2-5. Uncle Urigh, Robador, Huntington, Hogan, Golden Wine, R. F. Williams, Arabo ran.

SIXT HRACE—Mile and three-sixteenths, on turf: Maxnar, 109 (Finn), 6 to 1, won; Miss Craford, 112 (Radtke), 11 to 5, second; Agile 126 (J. Martin), 13 to 5, third. Time, 2:00 2-5. Entree, Don't Ask Me, Freckman, Sailor Boy ran.

AMERICAN MEATS, TABOOED.

Germans Declare Against Yankee Canned Meats.

Berlin, June 26.—The chairman of various Prussian chambers of agriculture and analagous chambers of commerce held a conference recently at Posen and adopted resolutions against American meats which were passed today. The resolutions ask the federal council to forbid the importation of foreign pickled meats and pork altogether and to order that prepared meats shall be imported only when their wholesomeness can be trustworthily demonstrated.

WOULD DRAIN SWAMPS.

Senator Latimer Wants to Reclaim Lands.

Washington, June 26.—Senator Latimer today made an effort to secure the adoption of a resolution directing the secretary of agriculture to investigate the possibility of draining the swamp and overflowed lands of the United States with the purpose of reclaiming them in the future. Senator Hale moved to refer the resolution to the committee on agriculture, and Messrs. Fulton, Heyburn and Flint opposed the resolution as calculated to lead to future development of a new branch of the public service with consequent great expense to the government. Mr. Latimer supported the measure as in the interest of justice and public economy. Mr. Hale's motion prevailed.

DEATH CLAIMS W. E. GUERARD

Was a Prominent and Wealthy Citizen of Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., June 26.—(Special.)—William E. Guerard, a prominent and wealthy citizen died this afternoon. He had been ill but a fortnight and until yesterday it was not thought that his illness would prove fatal.

Mr. Guerard had been in ill health for some time. On election day, though unwell, he remained around the polls all day. He became worse, being confined to his bed from that day.

In 1871 he was married to Miss Lonnie Rose, of Macon, who, with six children, survive him. The children are: Mrs. John Sullivan Schley, Mrs. Eldred Simkins, Miss Anna Guerard, William E. Guerard, Jr., Miss Harriet Guerard and Ross Guerard.

MALFEASANCE CHARGED.

Judge Parlange, of Louisiana, Is Charged With Oppression.

Washington, June 26.—A memorial presenting charges of oppresioon in office, malfeasance and misfeasance, with general denial of justice, against Charles Parlange district judge of the Eastern district of the United States court, of Louisiana, has been received by Speaker Cannon from Francis C. Mahan, of New Orleans, and referred to the judiciary committee.

The memorial sets forth that Mahan because of "local prejudice" believed he was denied justice in the state courts in a suit involving property valued at $50,000. He claimed the right, under the "civil rights act," based on the fourteenth amendment to the constitution, to go into the federal courts with this suit and presented a petition to that end to Judge Parlange, making affidavit that he was unable to pay the costs. The memorial charges "that the judge arbitrarily and in violation of law" refused and prevented the filing of the suit.

TOO TORRID AT NIGHT.

Senators Don't Want to Meet at Night.

Washington, June 26.—In the senate today Senator Hale suggested that after today the senate should meet at 11 o'clock each day and should also hold night sessions. Senator Bailey objected to night sessions, saying that at the session last night not twenty senators were present. He thought the weather too hot for night sessions. Several others are agreed with him, and for the time being the senate contented itself with ordering that tomorrow's session begin at 11 o'clock.

PREDICTS TAFT AS PRESIDENT

Justice Brewer, at Yale, Lauds Secretary Taft, "President to Be."

New Haven, Conn., June 26.—This was Alumni day at Yale, when hundreds of old graduates, coming from every quarter of the country, gathered in Alumni hall to listen to the annual report of President Arthur Hadley, of the university, and to hear words of greeting from a few of the many sons of Yale who have won distinction in business life. President Hadley in his report said that the financial condition of Yale was much better now than in past years. Before the alumni gathering there were many class reunions.

Justice David J. Brewer, '56, who was one of the speakers at the alumni meeting, referred to Secretary Taft as a man who had safely guided the country through the intricacies of the Philippine situation, and was at present carrying on successfully the great canal problem, and predicted "that he would carry to the presidency the same strength of character he has shown in dealing with the other problems."

"And when he is in the white house," said Justice Brewer, amid great applause, "I hope and I know he will put into the administration those same high principles taught by Yale, which he is showing in his public life."

NORTHEN ANSWERS CRITICS OF TORREY

Ex-Governor W. J. Northen, president of the Business Men's Gospel Union, has issued the following statement in reply to the criticisms passed upon Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander and their work in Atlanta:

"It has been my purpose, at the proper time, to make a public statement about the unfortunate state into which the community has been precipitated because of criticism upon the Torrey-Alexander Mission, alleged to have been made by the Baptist Ministers' Conference, held some days since.

"I am candid to say, when I read the published report, I was shocked as was the entire community. Shocked, because of the account given of the proceedings of the conference and shocked, again, because of what seemed to be the remarkable revulsion of opinion as against what had been the strong position taken by the conference up to that time.

"It was impossible for me to reconcile the two positions--so absolutely conflicting and I was deeply distressed.

"Soon after reaching my office last Tuesday morning, Dr. Millard called me over the phone to say the published report was erroneous.

"In the forenoon of the same day, Dr. White called at my office to say the same thing and he showed me the card to be signed by several members of the conference, denying that the public statement at all represented the spirit or the sentiment of the meeting. Later, Dr. Ward called to confirm this view. I have a letter from Dr. Briggs from which I quote:

" 'The meetings were productive of great good. Dr. Torrey is a man of God. All Atlanta is under lasting obligations to the Business Men's Gospel Union for brining those consencrated witnesses to Atlanta.'

"Other members of the conference have expressed themselves in the city press through interviews and personally signed cards.

"These facts, coupled with the action taken yesterday by the Baptist ministers, in conference assembled, plainly and fully setting out their true position, should fully and satisfactorily settle the whole matter in the minds of all the people and bring us again to dwell together, as Christians, in peace, in harmony and in love.

"It is due, in this connection, that I should now give even more fully the position of the Baptist ministers' conference upon the coming of Dr. Torrey to Atlanta.

"When the Business Men's Gospel Union was considering the possibility of securing Dr. Torrey's services, Dr. Broughton presented the matter before the Baptist ministers' conference, stating that the gospel union had such purpose and such plan in view. The whole matter was freely discussed, whereupon a resolution was adopted, appointed a committee from the Baptist ministers' conference to cooperate with the Bubiness Men's Gospel Union to the end named.

"Dr. Millard was made chairman of this committee. He at once communicated with me, announcing that his committee was ready to render the gospel union all the help necessary to secure the Torrey-Alexander mission for Atlanta. With this committee, it is due to say, Dr. Broughton actively cooperated and without the help given by Dr. Broughton and the committee from the Baptist ministers' conference it is more than likely Dr. Torrey could not havebeen induced to hold his mission here.

"It must now be quite apparent to all the people that the Baptist ministers took the initiative, through Dr. Broughton, and the ministers' committee, in bringing Dr. Torrey to Atlanta.

Quite as important as this statement just made, it is further due to say, when Dr. Hull, chairman of our devotional committee, and I presented the plans of the gospel union to the Evangelical Ministers' Association, composed of the ministers of all evangelical denominations in the city, looking to our proposed invitation to Dr. Torrey, and asking whether or not the association would indorse our contemplated action, Dr. Cleveland, of the Presbyterian church, opened the discussion, favoring the invitation. Dr. White, of the Second Baptist church, promptly introduced the following resolution, heartily indorsing the invitation and agreeing to cooperate in every way possible with the proposed mission:

" 'Resolved, That the Evangelical Ministers' Association heartily sympathizes with the movement of the Business Men's Gospel Union to secure the services of Messrs. Torrey and Alexander for evangelistic meetings in this city during the month of May, 1906.

" 'That, as a conference, we agree, each pastor for himself, as far as possible to devote some portion of the month of April to special services for the awakening and revival of Christians and the salvation of unbelievers, in order that the best results may be achieved by the Torrey-Alexander meeting.'

"Surely all these things, now taken jointly and in the best of faith, are more than sufficient to satisfy the people that the Baptist ministers of the city have not been properly and fully understood, and, therefore, the criticisms upon them have been wholly undue. We should all hasten, most lovingly and gladly, to repair whatever injury may have been done to the cause of Christ and to the ministers who have been so unduly censured.

"Can we not now all come together in the name of the Most High God to do His service in the awakening and reviving of Christians and the salvation of unbelievers, in order that the best results may be achieved by the Torrey-Alexander mission?'

"Before this end can be fully reached, it is necessary to notice, at least, one criticism from among the many that have been made directly upon the plans of the Business Men's Gospel Union. This one has come to us from all kinds and classes of men, ministers, laymen and unbelievers. It began when Dr. Chapman was with us. It has continued, unabated, since that day. It developed in greater force when Dr. Torrey came. It has, finally, been hurled at us from the pulpit as the statement of Rev. W. T. Hunnicutt, of this city. He is reported as saying: 'The Torrey-Alexander revival services held here recently, received $5,000 worth of advertising, and if it had not been for this they would have failed.' Mr. Hunnicutt has just informed me that he was reported correctly in this statement. As to the accuracy of the statement I have nothing to say, but leave to him for further investigation.

"This criticism has come to me in many forms. If Mr. Hunnicutt contributed any money to the expenses of the mission and is now not satisfied with the results and will so inform me, I will gladly return to him the amount. I desire to make this statement even broader. If there is any man in Atlanta or elsewhere who put a dollar into the Chapman meetings or into the Torrey mission and now believes the investment did not pay, and will so inform me he sehall have his money back the instant he reports.

"If Mr. Hunnicutt or any of the scores of people who are talking like Mr. Hunnicutt did not contribute a dollar to the expenses of the Chapman meetings nor to the expenses of the Torrey mission, let me say, plainly, very plainly, it is none of their business what these meetings cost, and it does not lie in their mouths to rush into the press, and certainly not into the pulpits, nor in the corridors of hotels, to censure the Gospel Union for being willing to put up $5,000 or any other amount, to ge used legitimately, in the salvation of men and women from the tortures of the damned. We have not yet learned the money value of a human soul.

"God pity the times upon which we have fallen if we are to be held in check and first determine the price to be paid for a soul.

"Now, brethren, let this matter be settled forever and aye. If any person does not want to take part with us, we will certainly not object, but we will be absolutely unmoved by the opinions of men who set a money value on a human soul.

"Let us be done with such things, and 'let us follow after things which make for peace and things whereby we may edify one another.' "

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

COTTON CONGRESS MEETS.

British Commission Complimented by Delegates.

Bremen, June 26.—The third international congress of Cotton Weavers and Spinners' societies today debated for several hours with the liveliest interest the questions of improvements in baling and shipping cotton. Mr. MacColl, one of the United States delegates, testified to the value of the work of the British commission which recently visited the United States, and suggested that the Washington conference of cotton growers and spinners which had promoted a better understanding should be repeated. On motion of M. Hemptines, a Belgian delegate the congress resolved to apoint a committee to sonsult with the committees of cotexchanges and planters with a view to adopting a new form of contract for the purchase of cotton.

Herr Brands, of Germany, and others, made various proposals with a view to obtaining a control of large amounts of cotton so as to steady the market.

TELEPHONE MEN MEET.

Great Increase in Use of Telephones Reported.

Chicago, June 26.—Nearly five hundred delegates attended the opening session of the second annual convention of the National Interstate Telephone Association here today. Corporation Counsel Lewis extended a welcome in behalf of the mayor and promised in his name that an independent telephone company would be given an entrance into Chicago. E. H. Moulton, of Indianapolis, responded for the association, declaring that there are 1,300,000 people roundabout Chicago who are waiting anxiously for such telephone connection with the city. President Hoge, in his annual address, declared that there are now 5,000,000 telephones in use in the United States, as compared with 300,000 eleven years ago, and that over 3,000,000 of these are owned by independent companies. The report of Assistant Secretary J. A. Harney, of Cleveland, showed that there are 7,400 independent companies operating in 11,925 cities and towns, representing every state in the union.

WAS SHANGHAIED, NEGRO DECLARES

Leaped From Steamer and Swam to Shore.

Captain of the Vessel, Which Was at Savannah, Showed That None of His Men Had Been Shanghaied, but One Man Was Jailed.

Savannah, Ga., June 26.—The British steamer Palitina, Captain C. S. Jackson, sailed this morning for Liverpool, but on the way down the harbor Robert Carson, colored, jumped overboard and swam ashore. He sought out the authorities and declared that he had been shanghaied aboard the vessel and that there were others aboard in that plight.

By telphone direction of Commissioner W. R. Hewlett, the steamer was stopped at the quarantine station, and this afternoon he proceeded to that point to investigate, Carson having sworn out a complaint.

Captain Jackson was given a hearing. He showed that none of his men had been shanghaied. They were offered an opportunity to leave the vessel, but all declined. Commissioner Hewlett then permitted the vessel to continue her voyage.

Jack Johnson and Ed White, both colored, were arrested on complaint of Carson. White was discharged, but Johnson was put in jail for shanghaing. Carson's story is that he and others were made drunk and then taken aboard the Palitina.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS.

Meeting to Nominate Candidate To To Be Held Today.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 26.—The democratic state convention, which meets here tomorrow to nominate candidates for governor and other state officers, will probably effect fusion with the Lincoln party (independent republicans), and the prohibitionists against the regular republican candidate. There are two factions among the democrats, one favoring fusion with a straight out democrat to head the ticket, and the other favoring fusion with Lewis Emory, Jr., the Lincoln party candidate for governor. State Senator Arthur G. De Walte is the candidate of the "straight-out democrats" and has the indorsement of National Committeeman James M. Guffey, who is opposed to placing any one but a democrat at the head of a fusion ticket.

A careful canvass of the situation tonight indicates that Emory probably will be nominated. The sentiment has been running in favor of Emory and all his friends claim he will carry the convention. De Walte's cause has been weakened by the absence of Colonel Guffey, who is regarded as his most formidable supporter, and it is not known definitely if he will come at all. The make-up of the remainder of the ticket will depend largely upon the result of the contest for governor.

COTTON WAS WEAK IN EARLY TRADING

Sold at a New Low Record for the Movement.

On Reports of Drought Being Broken in Texas—Later, on Covering, the Market Rallied, Closing Unchanged From Previous Close.

New York, June 26.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular during today's session with the close steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 4 points. Sales were estimated at 250,000 bales. The market opened steady at a decline of 2@5 points, which was better than due on cables so far as the new crop months were concerned, but quickly sold off to a net decline of 5@8 points, led by July, which touched 10.03 during the first few minutes under continued liquidation and bear pressure, and reports of rains in Texas. According to official advices, rains were more or less general all over the belt, but after the early decline the market steadied up on covering and at one time was about 2 to 5 points net higher. Near months were relatively steady at the close, reflecting the further sale of 11,000 bales from the local stock for consumption, thus reducing the probable number of notices, and the better crop weather in the southwest was the cause of the failure of the new crop months to hold the improvement of the middle session. The weekly crop review read bullishly as to the southwest, but was compiled too son to reflect the rains reported today, and the forecast was for continued showers. Receipts at the ports today 7,867 bales, against 27,567 last week and 17,982 last year. For the week, 3,000, against 29,83T last week and 75,547 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,799 bales, against 2,594 last year, and at Houston 2,702 bales, against 2,159 last year.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, June 26.—Cotton. Spot closed easy and unchanged from yesterday. Middling, 10 15-16. Sales were 200 bales on the spot and 750 to arrive, a total of 950.

Futures opened barely steady at a net decline of 6 to 11 points. The market was very dull throughout the day. Although the drought in Texas was broken, profit taking by shorts kept the market up. The closing was steady with prices near the highest of the day and ranging from 1 point lower to 3 points higher than yesterday's close.

The Dry Goods Market.

New Yrk, June 26.—There was a heavier movement today in the dry gods market in bleached and printed goods. Jobbing house sales were well attended and wash goods sold freely. The trade for the day was more promising than jobbers looked for. Cotton yarns were somewhat easier and the export trade to China is still very dull. Export gods are moving with considerable freedom to South America and West Indian ports.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, June 26, 12:30 p. m.—Cotton, spots, steady, moderate demand at unchanged prices; middling uplands 6.14; sales 5,000 bales; speculation and export 500; receipts 10,000, of which 8,400 American.

Futures opened steady.

Ware & Leland.

New York, June 26.—COTTON.—Following the heavy liquidation of yesterday there was a very steady market during the greater part of the session today. This was due to short covering of both new and old crops on the break and in spite of the rainfall in Texas, where the precipitation amounted to from one to three inches, thus relieving the drought in a great many portions of the state, prices held very well and shorts seemed more anxious to get into cotton than put out more. Operations were on a rather extensive scale early today when selling was heavy but on the break, buying started and soon lifted the market back to last night's prices. The tone was uncertain, owing to the approaching notice day on July, but there was a general feeling that around 10 cents the worst had been discounted. With the rains in Texas, the crop is placed in very good position and general reports are now of a satisfactory tenor. Under these circumstances it will be rather difficult to bring about much of an advance in prices particularly in view of the decline in the stock market and the extensive liquidation that has been going on in July. On any advance, it is more than likely that cotton will be for sale unless we have another bad turn of weather.

New York, June 26.—STOCKS.—There was a burst of liquidation soon after the opening of the stock market this morning, that carried prices down in a break. It was said to come from pool, insurance and individual sources. There was no support except scale down and that produced by short covering. The opinion was expressed during the course of the session that the only way the present political situation could be reconciled was through a liquidating market which seems to be taking place. Owing to the conflicting nature of the various factors, however, we are of the opinion that the safer policy will be to maintain a neutral position. We would not sell stocks on weak spots, but upon rallies. In buying, the best course would be to select dividend payers, returning more than 4 1-2 per cent on the amount of capital invested, and we would buy them only when weak, after drives. The financial situation is very uncertain at present and the professional element is evidently organized into a strong bear party. It is necessary that moderate profits should be sought and that the stop order should be employed to cut short losses. Conservatism will repay those who exercise it during the next ten days, on whichever side of the market they may see fit to act.

Gibert & Clay.

New Orleans, June 26.—COTTON—In Liverpool, options were not up to expectations, and closing prices were lower than the previous day's levels by 6 points. The general trade has likewise fallen off in a disappointing manner, sales of spot cotton today only amounting to 5,000 bales at unchanged quotations. Despite the breaking of the drought in all sections of the belt, where such conditions have prevailed, market prices have been exceedingly well maintained through the medium of comparatively heavy covering on the part of shorts. The fact that the government's weekly weather report was to appear today, and owing to the adverse conditions under which the crop had been laboring previous to the advent of the present change in the weather, it was almost universally thought that the review would be bullish in character, and hence the expressed fear on the part of the short element; however, the expectation of the trade failing of material fulfilment, offerings became freer, and netted a further decline. The prospects for an excellent crop at the present time must be admitted, but the market depends so entirely upon weather that, in spite of the most desired realizations, the utmost conservatism prevails, as the trade knows full well the dangers that lurk where such a vital influence as the weather is concerned.

Chicago, June 26.—WHEAT—The market today was exceedingly erratic and nervous. After opening firm and holding steady during the early part of the session, the market suddenly weakened on further liquidation by tired holders, prices being forced off about 3-4 cents. On the decline, however, shorts attempted to cover, but, as offerings had completely dried up, prices scored a rapid recovery of about 1c per bushel, final close being strong. As the spring wheat crop is now entering the critical stage, and as complaints regarding too much moisture throughout that section are becoming quite numerous, still feel that advantage should be taken of every recession in order to make purchases. As from a speculative point of view, the possibilities which favor the bulls are unlimited.

CORN has ruled firm almost from the start. The big influence is the belief in lighter receipts next week and thereafter. Country sales have been light for some days, although the arrivals from previous sales have been very large. Weather was fine and crowd oversold early, buying back later from the larger local specuators who had absorbed the early offerings. We believe that all bearish factors for the present have been fully discounted, therefore continue to advise purchases of all soft spots.

OATS started a trifle easy on fine weather and a little selling by commission firms. There was an excellent demand almost from the opening. It was headed first by scalpers and followed by cereal interests and large private wire firms acting on orders that appeared to have originated from important local sources. Offerings proved rather light and values improved. Strong interests were again good buyers. Still feel that oats will ultimately sell higher.

PROVISIONS—Marhet has ruled higher. Local and western run of hogs less than anticipated and quite a number of shorts were trying to cover. Offerings were light, and there was further investment buying of pork and lard, while ribs were difficult to buy. Shipments both of meats and lard have been very large and much in excess of those of a year ago. Opinion on provisions unchanged.

New York, June 26.—STOCKS—Such a market as we have had today might easily mean that a favorable basis had been reached for investment, and speculative buying, and were it not for continued agitation of disturbing influences of a sentimental character, wider support would undoubtedly follow. Meantime, beyond an ordinary traders' rally, during the early afternoon there is nothing to suggest a permanent change for the better at the moment. Most influences today which could affect the public mind, as distinctly bearing on the market, were favorable, but suggestions that congress might not adjourn this week and reported selling of Americans in London served to restrict outside support. Beyond some hardening in time money, the local situation is normal, with no apparent chance of higher rates this week, or next, though most predictions favor this development as a result of July 1 preparations. The character of the trading today suggests that a further decline might mark the beginning of the end of the depressions, and we rather favor the market for long commitments on any such depression as may take place in the near future.

Bradstreet's Available Supply of Grain.

New York, June 26.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies as compared with previous account.

Wheat—United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, decreased 1,516,000; afloat for and in Europe decreased 1,500,000. Total supply decreased 3,046,000.

The Metal Market.

New York, June 26.—Further sharp decline in London tin, spot closing £175 15s and futures £174 15s. Local market also lower. Spot, $38.30@38.50.

Copper lower abroad; spot £81 5s and futures £80. Locally remains practically nominal, with outside quotations a little extreme. Lake, $18.50@19.00; electrolytic, $18.25@18.62½; casting, $18.12½@18.25.

WHEAT MARKET CLOSED HIGHER

Too Much Rain and Rust in the Northwest Chief Factor.

Prices Were Irregular and Nervous, at One Time Showing a Sharp Decline on Profit-Taking, but Later Recovered, Closing Firm.

Chicago, June 26.—The wheat market today was irregular and nervous, prices ruling from ⅜c under to ⅝c over the close of yesterday for the September option. The close was firm with September ½@⅝c higher. Corn was up ½c. Oats were ¾@⅞c higher and provisions advanced 15 to 17½c.

There was nothing sensational on either side of the market in the news of the day, but reports of too much rain in the northwest and of the appearance of red rust in that section affected the market as much as anything. Early in the day the market was inclined to be firm because of continued rains in the southwest and northwest, small receipts at Minneapolis and the comparatively firm tone at Liverpool. Shorts covered freely and there was considerable buying by local bulls. Toward the middle of the day the market broke sharply, the September option declining to 82½, although the world's visible supply showed a considerable decrease. There was also much profit taking which weakened the market. Offerings were scarce, however, and with the strength of corn and oats and on report of additional rain in the northwest prices advanced strongly. The close was firm. September opened ⅝c higher at 84¼c, ranged between 82½@83½c and closed at 83⅜c. July sold between 82⅜@82½c and 83½@83⅜c and closed at 83⅛@83¼c. The world's visible supply, according to Bradstreet's, decreased 3,046,000 bushels, against a decrease of 3,853,000 last year. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 88,200. Primary receipts were 174,000 bushels, against 282,000 last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 174 cars, against 241 cars last week and 212 a year ago.

Corn ruled strong throughout, the September option closing 1¼c higher. Cash houses reported a general reduction in country acceptances. The price of cash corn was ½c higher and the demand good. The best buying by shorts and commission houses. September opened unchanged at 51⅛c, sold between that figure and 52⅜c, the high price of the day, where it closed strong. July ranged between 50⅝@51⅞c and closed at 51⅞c. Local receipts 894 cars with 514 contract grade.

Oats were strong all day, partly in sympathy with corn and partly on a good demand from shorts and commission houses. The buying was of an influential character and continued throughout the session. The close was strong with prices at the highest point. September opened at 34¾c, which was a shade higher than the close of yesterday, ranged between 36¾@35½c, which was the final quotation. Local receipts were 255 cars.

The provisions market was firm on a moderate amount of trade and closed with gains throughout the list. The strength was based upon higher prices for live hogs covering by shorts and active buying by local packers. At the close September pork was up 17½c at $16.77½. Lard was 15c higher at $8.97½. Ribs were up 15@17c at $9.27½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 4 cars; corn 354 cars; oats 148 cars; hogs 32,000 head.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

Southern Exchange.

New York, June 26.—COTTON—The market moved within a narrow range today, influenced by conflicting opinions as to the effect of possible notice day deliveries on Friday, and the importance of recent crop news, which has been unfavorable from private sources. Liquidation has recently been very heavy and notwithstanding a further decline in cables our market has not been seriously affected, except during the opening trades, after which some steadiness was shown. With the July option very near 10 cents. The market induced some spinners to cover their commitments by purchases of this option for protection. The weather report today showed rains in many parts of Texas and lower temperatures. It appears that eastern Texas has been relieved of drought conditions and good rains have fallen throughout that section. Apart from the chance of a break in the old crop options on Friday or before that date as a result of heavy offerings of spot cotton, the market looks hard enough to hold, and perhaps show an advancing tendency in near future. The recent decline will act as an incentive to bring the outside public more prominently into the market.

$8,250 FOR the best and prettiest home for the price that can be found on north side of the city, and it could not be duplicated now for less than $9,000. It's an elegant 9-room house, only about 2 years old, with all modern conveniences and furnace heat. In one of the choicest neighborhoods in the city, near Peachtree.

$5,250 FOR the best home on Capitol avenue, that has been offered in a long time. Splendid house of 9 rooms and beautiful east front lot 50x200 feet. This side of Georgia avenue. Place cost about $6,500, but we can sell at price named if sold this week, and on easy terms.

$4,250 FOR splendid lot on Peachtree street, 50 feet wide, fine depth and east front. A rare opportunity if you want a Peachtree lot.

$3,750 FOR nice 8-room house, with modern conveniences, and in fine neighborhood near Peachtree. Better see us soon. Can't find these often.

$5,150 FOR lovely suburban home. Beautiful 7-room cottage with large attic and large, elegant verandas. Magnificent lot of nearly 2 acres, beautifully shaded, and with over 200 feet front on electric line, and right at station. In 20 minutes' car ride, in splendid neighborhood. House alone would now cost about the price of the place.

$5,500 FOR 2-story 8-room house on Spring street, with pretty east front lot and in splendid neighborhood.

$4,500 FOR beautiful Ansley Park lot, very near Peachtree st. If you want a large, elegant lot in this fashionable section at a bargain, you'd better see us about this.

DO you want to make some money? If you do, see us about a beautiful large corner lot on north side that will subdivide into 3 or 4 pretty lots. $3,650 will buy it, and it's a dead sure thing for a good profit. Reasonable terms.

$6,500 FOR nice 2-story house of 8 rooms in splendid neighborhood, on north side, and near Peachtree; small cash payment and very easy terms.

$600 FOR pretty West End lot, on nice street and car line, and in nice neighborhood. Fine bargain and reasonable terms.

Bankruptcy Sale of Oil Mill and Grist Mill at Talladega, Alabama, and a Certain Warehouse and Gins Near Talladega and at Ashland, Alabama.

UNDER AND BY VIRTUE of a decree rendered by the United States District Court for the Eastern Division of the Northern District of Alabama, in the case wherein the Talladega Mercantile Company is bankrupt, we, the undersigned, trustees, will sell in front of the Court House doors of Talladega, Alabama, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 p. m., on to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property, to wit:

1. A certain oil mill, machinery, implements, appliances, tools, fixtures and tanks used in connection therewith, situated on part of lots 11 and 12 and lots 13 to 21, inclusive, block 64-A, according to the map and plan of the Talladega Land and Improvement Company.

2. A certain grist mill situated at Talladega, Alabama, together with all the cachinery, implements, and appliances, situated on part of lots 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, block 64-A, according to the map and plan of the Talladega Land and Improvement Company.

3. One complete ginnery, consisting of gins, boilers, engines, belts and various kinds of machinery connected with a gin, located on the Marcus Walker place, in Talladega County, Alabama, together with a rental contract for a ten-year lease upon the lands where said ginnery is located, together wtih all and every right thereto appurtenant or in any wise appertaining.

4. Stock certificate number 2 for twelve shares of stock in the G. T. McElderry Ginnery, a body corporate, with its principal place of business at Talladega, Alabama, (said certificate being now in the possession of Mrs. L. A. Jemison, as collateral security for a loan of $1,000 made by her November 3, 1903, to the said G. T. McElderry Ginnery and endorsed by W. L. Miller and G. T. McElderry), together with all the right, title and interest of the Talladega Mercantile Co., in said stock and the said G. T. McElderry Ginnery.

5. One cotton seed ware house at Childersburg, Alabama, known as the Talladega Mercantile Company's seed house, together with the scales thereto connected, and all other property thereto appertaining.

6. One seed house at Talladega, Alabama, on the property of the Southern Railway Company, immediately north and across the track from the Southern Railway Company's freight depot.

7. One set of wagon scales at Pyriton, Clay County, Alabama.

8. One set of wagon scales at Columbiana, Alabama.

9. All other property of the Talladega Mercantile Company, real or personal, and in which the said bankrupt has any interest, legal or equitable.

10. House and lot in Ashland, Alabama, located in the Y of the Alabama Northern Railway and known as the Talladega Mercantile Company's cotton seed house.

The oil mill above described was built in 1902 and some new machinery added recently. The total cost of the plant is approximately $44,000.00.

The grist mill has been built within the last five years and at a total cost of over $16,000.00.

Both in first-class condition.

The oil mill will first be sold separately and thereupon the grist mill will be sold, and then both of them will be offered for sale jointly, with the privilege of the separate bidders increasing their bids. If the separate bids amount to more that the bid for the property offered together, then the separate bidders will be the purchasers, and if the bids on the property sold for a whole amount to the larger sum, then it will be sold to the joint bidders, said sale to be made subject to confirmation of the court. Immediately upon the sale the highest bidder on the grist mill must deposit in cash or certified check $1,000.00, and the purchaser of the oil mill must deposit in cash or certified check $5,000.00, which will be considered part of the purchase money, the balance to be paid upon the confirmation of the sale.

Full examination can be made of the property and all information desired will be given by corresponding with the undersigned at Talladega.

This the 4th day of June, 1906.

STOCK MOVEMENTS WERE IRREGULAR

In Early Trading Prices Broke on Large Selling Orders.

Later the Market See-Sawed for a Time and Then Began an Upward Move, Reducing General Losses, Closing Firm and Active.

New York, June 26.—The fall in prices of stocks which was in progress yesterday was extended considerably during the early trading today. The easy yielding of prices encouraged aggressive operations on the short side by professional bear operators. In St. Paul no stock was disposed of on the first break between 175 and 174. The later prices following the former on sale of only 500 shares. This incident served as a warning to the bears that they were overextending themselves and a demand to cover shorts, which gained in volume during the progress of the day was the consequence.

A substantial recovery in prices followed. It did not appear that the demand which caused this recovery extended beyond the uncovered short interests. As prices got up to the higher levels there was a decrease in activity and a diminishing inclination to buy stocks. There was no important change in conditions affecting the market, some calling of loans was reported amongst the banks, this had no perceptible effect in the call loan market, but rates for time loans continued strong at the high level established yesterday. Such heavy disbursements as are to occur with the turn of the month are expected usually to cause some preliminary investment for securities. One of the discouraging features of the present market is the entire absence of any such demand. The bond market continued rather to reflect the pressure of occasional liquidation, sometime due to the expiration of syndicates and the distribution to members of unsold holdings. Selling by fire insurance companies has been evidence also ever since the San Francisco losses.

A further decline in the London price of copper made Amalgamated Copper vulnerable to further attack this morning. The increase in dividend rate in Anaconda during the afternoon left a large short interest in the two stocks uncovered and their strong rally furnished effective leadership for the recovery in the market. The continued firmness of Southern Pacific kept alive rumors of an intended increase in the dividend rate. After some irregularities in the late dealings the market closed firm at the best prices on a final rally.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value $1,910,000.

Weekly Bureau Report.

Washington, June 26.—Galveston, Tex.—The week was generally dry and scattered local showers and thunder squalls with hail occurred on several days in eastern counties. The rainfall was much below the average except in few northern and eastern counties; drought continues along coast and in many portions of the interior. In the coast districts and in the Rio Grande valley there was either an entire absence of rain or no measurable amount during the week.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory, Oklahoma.—The week was clear and dry with mean temperatures slightly below normal, scattered thunderstorms occurred on the 23d, 24th and 25th. The rainfall was generally light and below average in all parts of the section.

Vicksburg, Miss.—Mean temperature was above normal, abundant sunshine and fresh winds dried the soil rapidly. Beneficial showers occurred in the extreme south and in a few localities elsewhere, but rain is generally needed.

Montgomery, Ala.—Clear weather and high temperatures prevailed with no precipitation worthy of note except copious to moderately heavy rains in few southeastern counties.

New Orleans, La.—Scattered light showers occurred, but drought is generally unbroken and conditions are very serious in many sections. A general rain is badly needed. The temperature was above normal and there was about the usual sunshine.

Little Rock, Ark.—The forepart of the week was cool and latter part was warm, temperature averaging about normal, except in northwestern counties, where it was below. Nights too cool, well distributed showers occurred on three days. The rainfall was below the average in the extreme eastern and northwestern counties and normal elsewhere. The week closed showery. There was sufficient sunshine.

Nashville, Tenn.—The week was somewhat cooler than usual, scattered showers occurred, but they were generally light and portions of middle and western sections are still in need of rain. Some damaging local storms were reported.

Raleigh, N. C.—The forepart of the week was partly cloudy with numerous thunderstorms, there was less cloudiness with fewer thunderstorms during the latter part. The precipitation was below normal and not well distributed. The temperature was about normal, hot days and relatively cool nights prevailing.

Columbia, S. C.—Temperatures above 90 degrees occurred during the latter half of the week with widely scattered thunderstorms and generally light rains. The temperature and sunshine were slightly above normal.

Atlanta, Ga.—The weather was clear with hot days and cool nights most of the week. The mean temperature averaged 1 to 3 degrees above the normal. The rainfall was decidedly below the average, local showers occurred in most sections on the 19th and 21st.

The Great North Country.

Nimrod was a mighty hunter, but had he hunted in the "Temagami" region he would have been a mightier one. Nimrod hunted for glory, but Temagamians hunt for game. Those Indians who made the first canoe of birch bark long ago, were our greatest benefactors. The children of these Indians know the canoe, and they know how to use it, and if you go to Temagami this summer they will paddle your canoe in their own superb way. They will be the best guides you ever had. Students who camp in summer along the Temagami lakes are able to do two years' work in one. Finest of fishing and hunting. Easy of access by the Grand Trunk Railway System. For information and beautiful descriptive publication sent free apply to R. McC. Smith, 120 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

ATTEMPTED MURDER OF COUNT.

Count Odin, of Roumania, who has been touring this country, was last night dangerously wounded by his gypsy servant, one Zallony. The only clue to the gypsy's purpose is found in "The Lady Evelyn," a splendid novel by Max Pemberton, which will be published serially in this paper (prior to book publication), beginning Sunday, July 1. It is the third of the Authors and Newspapers' Association's famous $150,000 series.

A Big Piece of Rough Land

We can sell a block of rough land on Thurmond street, near Walnut, 280x385, for $3,500. It is just five squares from the railroad along Marietta street, and right behind Davis street school.

In adjoining blocks are the Electric Light Plant, the Atlanta Rug Mills and Wachendorff's Nursery, which goes to indicate the uses to which such a piece could be put.

This place is only half a mile from Terminal Station; you could use it awhile and cut up into 30 lots and retail out at $200 apiece.

FORREST AND GEORGE ADAIR.

IN the Monarch Visible Typewriter, as in all other successful writing machines, it is the typebar that "does it," and, while it is built as in the most popular machines of the under-stroke pattern, it hits in plain sight—that is visible typewriting and that is common sense, for it contributes to speed and to a great many other things, principally economy of labor and time and the production of better work. It also comes back from the stroke type-face up, which is another visible advantage to be added to the many other labor-saving qualities peculiarly its own. Come in and let us show you how it "does it." Foote & Davies Co. Typewriter Department, 61 E. Alabama St., Atlanta.

GYPSIES TERRORIZE SUBURBS.

A band of armed gypsies are terrorizing the suburbs. They are headed by a scoundrel who calls himself Zallony. Their depredations have a specific purpose. What that dread purpose is can only be learned through reading "The Lady Evelyn," Max Pemberton's stirring novel, which will begin exclusive serial publication in this paper Sunday, July 1. It is the third of the Authors and Newspapers' Association's famous $150,000 series.
